The Studio

Metropolitan Museum of Art
"The German painter Paul Klee (1879-1940) has become one of today's most popular artists. Ninety works by Klee--including drawings, watercolors, and oils, either serious, comical, capricious, or dramatic--have recently been given to the Metropolitan Museum of Art by one of the postwar era's leading art dealers and collectors, Heinz Berggruen, and are now published together in this volume for the first time. The works in the distinguished Berggruen Klee Collection, now a permanent part of the Metropolitan Museum of Art's holdings, span the career of the artist from his student days in Bern in the 1890s to his death in Muralto-Locarno in 1940. All aspects of Klee both as a draftsman and as a painter are illustrated in these ninety works. Paul Klee is not only one of today's most popular artists, but he is also one of the most written about. In an illuminating addition to the vast literature on Klee, Sabine Rewald opens this study with a candid interview with the artist's only son,

Felix, which took place in Bern in February 1986. Accompanied by documentary and informal photographs of the Klee family, it gives pointed and witty insights into the artist's private life. It also offers a behind-the-scenes view of the Bauhaus, where Paul Klee taught and where Felix Klee was a student. Most of the ninety works in the Berggruen Klee Collection are reproduced in full-page colorplates, and each one is accompanied by an extensive entry. These entries incorporate biographical information and quotations from Klee's letters, the latter as yet unpublished in English. The book includes an extensive chronology and a bibliography." --

As a true city man Jean Beraud tried with his pictures to capture the real vitality of urban life in Paris. He made portraits of elegant society ladies, but also of working-class women, pictures of folk dancing and absinthe drinkers in the bars and cafes.

Galerie Thaddaeus

Ropac is pleased to announce a group

exhibition curated by

Matthieu Poirier. The

exhibition will bring together works by

twenty artists of eight different nationalities

to explore the notion of landscape. Landscape,

the exhibition and

book, intend to call into question the art

historical precedent of the correlation

between landscape

and drawing. The exhibition thus

assembles, in two successive shows

(Paris and Salzburg),

over one hundred

works, often in atypical formats, by artists for whom drawing is often

just one medium

among others, and

landscape, a non-exclusive genre. Under the neologistic title

"Landscape" - a

contraction of

"landscape" and

"scope" [from the Greek skopein "to behold, to observe"],

landscape is regarded as both a site and a view. The landscapes

brought together here

are often natural, yet

reject conventional

narrative or narcissistic themes. As in the mirror-like illustrations of Maeterlinck's dream of a theatre without actors, these scenes systematically exclude all human presence and thus contribute to the establishment of a scenography of absence, of a paradoxical phenomenology of emptiness. Even if these landscapes are completely deserted, they nevertheless remain "event-scenes [paysages d'évènements]" (Paul Virilio), genuine locations, resulting most frequently, from the collision of formal, logical and scopic motivations, rather than as a result of a narrative. Chosen here for its manifest artificiality and its necessarily dialectic relationship with the world, drawing appears as the indispensable tool for reconsidering this notion of landscape as well as the related themes of perspective, space and representation. It is not so much the spatial landscapes that are observed here, but through their archetypal characteristics, the very notion of landscape itself.--Press release.
