These will vary according to the type of rope being spliced. The splicing fid is a traditional tool to make openings beneath the strands of twisted or square plaited ropes. Braided ropes are spliced using a fid and pusher. The fid works like a large sewing needle: it stiffens the rope end to allow it to be pulled. The Perfect Line - Gleistein Ropes. Rope splicing in ropework is the forming of a semi-permanent joint between two ropes or two parts of the same rope by partly untwisting and then interweaving their strands. Splices can be used to form a stopper at the end of a line, to form a loop or an eye in a rope, or for joining two ropes together. Splices are preferred to knotted rope, since while a knot typically reduces the strength by ...Rope splicing - Wikipedia
