Brief Welcome Speeches Canterbury Press

A compilation of 22 Spiritual plays for Christmas, Easter, and Other Occasions, written by a Black Christian Woman. The plays are practical lessons from God's Word in a simplified format injected with humor for the edification, inspiration and enjoyment to Christians and non-Christians alike. Working as scriptwriter, producer and director for the performance of these plays in her church for thirteen years provided the writer an additional way to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ, enhancing Biblical knowledge to the writer, reader, play performer and viewing audience. Mary E. Smith was the first employee in her agency of more than 600 employees to be designated for the Management Intern Program in the District of Columbia Government. She received the Mayor's Employee Of The Year Award one year and the Second Runner-up of the same award four years later. She was also awarded the Mayor's Meritorious Public Service Award at the end of her tenure in D.C. Government for outstanding community service. She additionally received a Recognition and Appreciation Award from her church in Landover, Maryland for skillfulness in creative writing and for production of these plays in their church. Her interest in writing stories that subsequently grew into script-writing began while she served as president of her agency's Toastmasters International Club after writing and delivering a speech winning first place in a humorous speech contest. Her interest was heightened in her role as coordinator of the first Youth Leadership Program of Toastmasters International at Woodson Sr. High School, Washington, D.C. Here her creativity was further challenged and exercised while teaching skills and techniques to teenagers, assisting them in the development of their thoughts and in oral presentation and evaluation.

The perfect gift! A specially priced, beautifully designed hardcover edition of The Joy of the Gospel with a foreword by Robert Barron and an afterword by James Martin, SJ. "The joy of the gospel fills the hearts and lives of all who encounter Jesus... In this Exhortation I wish to encourage the Christian faithful to embark upon a new chapter of evangelization marked by this joy, while pointing out new paths for the Church's journey in years to come." - Pope Francis This special edition of Pope Francis's popular message of hope explores themes that are important for believers in the 21st century. Examining the many obstacles to faith and what can be done to overcome those hurdles, he emphasizes the importance of service to God and all his creation. Advocating for "the homeless, the addicted, refugees, indigenous peoples, the elderly who are increasingly isolated and abandoned," the Holy Father shows us how to respond to poverty and current economic challenges that affect us locally and globally. Ultimately, Pope Francis demonstrates how to develop a more personal relationship with Jesus Christ, "to recognize the traces of God's Spirit in events great and small.”

 Profound in its insight, yet warm and accessible in its tone, The Joy of the Gospel is a call to action to live a life motivated by divine love and, in turn, to experience heaven on earth. Includes a foreword by Robert Barron, author of Catholicism: A Journey to the Heart of the Faith and James Martin, SJ, author of Jesus: A Pilgrimage

Is the reform we have seen in the wake of the pedophilia scandals in the Catholic Church meaningful? Have our conversations about the causes of these scandals delved as deeply as they need to? For those questioning the relations between hierarchical power, secrecy, and sexuality in institutional religion, Mark D. Jordan's eloquent meditations on what truths about sexuality need to be told in church-and the difficulty of telling any truths-will be a balm and a revelation.

Although there have been many biographical studies about the more well-known music educators, little has been done to investigate what teaching was like for the average teacher, and even less is known about teaching music in the early years of music education in the United States. This book focuses on what Irving Emerson's life was like as a musician and music teacher in order to illuminate a larger groundwork that was established during the early development and growth of music education in the United States.

Practical Public Speaking Lexington Books

In this introductory text, Lucy Lind Hogan helps the reader understand the theological task of becoming a preacher, the craft of writing the sermon, and the importance of communicating the gospel in the present world. In doing so, she creates a book that is more holistic than any other homiletics text currently on the market. Hogan begins with a theological rationale for preaching, which serves as a basis for understanding the identity of the preacher. She then explores the context for preaching, showing how to interpret a scriptural text, design a sermon, and use illustrations and examples. She also discusses preaching for special occasions, the use of different technologies in preaching, and the importance of delivery. This book includes questions for reflection.
