"Letter-a-week" may be a ubiquitous approach to teaching alphabet knowledge, but that doesn't mean it's an effective one. In No More Teaching a Letter a Week, early literacy researcher Dr. William Teale helps us understand that alphabet knowledge is more than letter recognition, and identifies research-based principles of effective alphabet instruction, which constitutes the foundation for phonics teaching and learning. Literacy coach Rebecca McKay shows us how to bring those principles to life through purposeful practices that invite children to create an identity through print. Children can and should do more than glue beans into the shape of a "B"; they need to learn how letters create words that carry meaning, so that they can, and do, use print to expand their understanding of the world and themselves.

I have made this Phonics Letter of the Week unit to address the Kindergarten(Prep) level of learning. The contents of this packet provide teachers with a variety of games, activities and worksheets to help teach correct letter formation, written letter identification and recognition of initial letter sound. My aim when creating this book was to provide a unit for teaching one letter of the alphabet at a time. There is a great emphasis on letter sounds, which makes this an ideal tool for phonics teaching. There are 30 games, activities and worksheets that can be used to help you teach the letter Bb at the beginning of the year and to reinforce and consolidate what has been learnt throughout the year.

Don't be fooled by other blank handwriting papers that offer multiple grade levels in one book. Just like kids in different grades need different sized clothes, each grade level requires handwriting paper with different sized lines, especially for younger children or those that are struggling with handwriting. Our age-appropriate blank handwriting paper for Third Grade students is the traditional 1/2 inch ruled horizontal paper with a dotted midline. This larger, educationally sound, developmental design will help your child learn handwriting without the frustration of having to write too small, too soon. If your child has difficulty fitting letters to the page or writing on the lines, consider using the handwriting practice paper one grade level below instead for a while as it will provide bigger spaces and lines. Little hands need bigger spaces for better practice. Try our time tested blank handwriting paper and experience Low Stress-Teaching Success with workbooks by Peachy Keen Products.
