They say you hurt the ones you love most. No one ever talks about when they hurt you back. Just after dawn on the hottest day East Providence has endured in a hundred summers, Todd, a bit of a ladies' man, finds his prized rose bush dead. This is only the first in an ever-more-ominous series of events, and someone...or something...is trying to invade his home. In the tradition of The Fall of the House of Usher, Ligeia, and Aura comes a gripping tale of love, lust...and regret.

Carpe Diem. Seize the Day. Just imagine one day, someone lets you know that your lifetime's nearly up. You only have 24 hours left before you die... You gradually understand that you're in fact privileged, because you are being granted these additional 24 hours as an opportunity to redeem yourself. Provided that you chose to, of course. If you succeed in it, you will be given the possibility to go on living in another dimension. If not, then you will be blown up to ashes. Make the good choices, John, for your last 86.400 seconds. Will he save his soul? Carpe Diem. Seize the Day. Extract... ..". The way people looked at her made her both feel happy and wretched. It was both her treasure and her torment. Then they settled in a family routine which took away the magic and the passion of their first years as a couple. John used to cherish their memory. - I've understood the message, about having this watch on my wrist, I mean. I'm to leave this Earth soon, right? She asks looking at JJ straight in his eyes. - Not yet, Mom, not yet. Every human has a finite number of heartbeats. Don't watch the clock; do what it does. Seize the day. - Seize the Day, then she whispers, staring away. - Carpe diem quam minimum credula postero. Seize the Day, put no trust in tomorrow, Mom. Today is the first day of the rest of your life. Make the best of it. - I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I love today! - Mom, Seize the Day every day make your life extraordinary - I have always known that at last I would take the heart road but yesterday I did not know it would be today. -The right decisions come from the heart, not from the brain, the right decisions come from the heart... ..". Time wasting... What a weird expression! Could anyone tell me what time really is? No, nobody knows, he thinks aloud. All expressions using the word time are mere aphorisms. In other words, bullshit! Time is the only thing that cannot be wasted or lost. I can lose my cell phone, my wallet, a friend, my wife or even my children... but my time? No. My time is always here with me, and I can't lose it. No need to lock it in a safe, no one will ever come to steal it. As if someone would tell me to live! Or that I live off beat! This expression is really stupid... How come have I never thought about it before! The time? It has a wonderful way to show us what really matters. Time will bring to light whatever is hidden, he concludes with a smile. ..." ..". The audience is now spellbound. Eager to hear whatever John will say next. - During our time down here, we're like shadows of a toy theater. We're moved around by ropes like puppets. For each one of our faults, we get a cosmic penalty. At some point, all your penalties put together outweigh you and as a consequence, the impure souls will be trapped in a black hole. Because they've threatened the cosmic balance. It is always up to us to make the good choice between love and hate, taking our responsibilities or escaping from them, telling the truth or lying, being ourselves or pretending. I've often spontaneously chosen what to do out of a feeling of revenge. Or because it was the easiest way out. But today I've been lucky enough to be chosen by the Dispatchor. Carpe Diem, my friends. If Seize the Day is important to you. You will find a way. If not, you'll find an excuse. Excuses are the tools of incompetence, used to build monuments of nothingness. You don't understand any of this, do you? Never mind, what really matters now to you is that the Show must go on! says John before adding, as the protocol of this grotesque comedy requires, I declare the MTV Movie Awards in Hollywood City open! ..."

"Ojalá hubiera leído, junto con toda mi red, No seas 'ese fulano' del network marketing cuando comencé en esta industria. Este libro acortará la curva de aprendizaje y disminuirá el rechazo que, en mi opinión, es la razón primordial por la cual algunos emprendedores abandonan la industria del mercadeo en red". —Esther Spina, empresaria multimillonaria y autora de The Everything Guide to Network Marketing En esta obra, repleta de historias reales, escritas con un inconfundible toque de humor, Adam y Michelle Carey describen muy amenamente cuáles son esos 21 errores que, con mucha frecuencia, cometen los mercaderos involucrados en el campo del network marketing, o mercadeo en red, y que terminan por dejar caer sobre ellos el pesado rótulo que los convierte en "ese fulano". Los autores proponen esta guía sencilla y fácil de aplicar, a la que ellos llaman "una guía de etiqueta" para ayudarles a sus lectores a actuar como verdaderos profesionales del network marketing y además incrementar en gran medida sus ingresos. Leyendo y aplicando los consejos de este libro, tú y toda tu red lograrán: Acelerar el éxito: aumentando los resultados mediante pasos efectivos en cada capítulo. Aliviar el rechazo: evitando el innecesario estigma de ser "ese fulano". Destacar la profesión: aumentando drásticamente su nivel de profesionalismo y mejorando así la imagen del mercadeo en red.

USA TODAY bestselling author of The Givenchy Code Julie Kenner reloads for her second novel of high-heeled thrills as another woman gets pulled into a mysterious world of extreme gaming where she must play or die. Aspiring actress Jennifer Crane knows all about games—the games girls play to get a guy; the games actresses play to land a part; and the good old game of credit-card roulette. (How else is a girl supposed to afford her shoes?) But she never expected to be playing a game with life-or-death consequences. Unable to successfully score an acting gig, she has, instead, been cast in the role of reluctant bodyguard to a real-life assassin's target—a dashing FBI agent of all people!—and must embark with him upon a scavenger hunt across Manhattan in search of the ultimate prize: survival. Before this, Jenn's definition of fighting dirty has been elbowing her way to the front of the line at a Manolo sample sale. Now, if she wants to stay alive, she's going to have to learn a few new uses for her stilettos...and they ain't pretty. Fast, flirty, and full of great footwear, The Manolo Matrix is another electrifying adventure in this breakout series for fashionistas who love a perfectly appointed mystery.

We live in a quantum world, where spirit or energy is the only thing that really exists and all possibilities are probabilities. And energy is always in motion. You're born, you live a life, you die. There are all kinds of lifespans. Take technology, for example... Once a cell phone - even though it had to have a briefcase and a big, tall antenna to work - was a radical new invention. But look at today's cell phones. They're tiny and you can call internationally for only a few dollars more a month. Lots of life spans of products passed en route. Change. "I wish they didn't charge for baggage at the airport, like they used to didn't..." "I wish they didn't have the security service that bothers me at the airport." If you're talking like that, it seems you wish it was pre 9/11. But it isn't. That's change Embrace it. Look, we're lucky; we're humans. We get approximately a hundred years as a lifespan, give or take. I've heard of organisms with a lifespan of less than 24 hours! Talk about needing to get all your living in while you can! Energy is always dancing into form, through form, and out of form. Energy never stays still; it's always in motion. And it's just possible that you were called upon to be an emissary of that one quantum force. Recognize the continuity and then assert your ability to make a difference. Ask yourself the very simple question... "How am I going to contribute?" And then get busy doing what your inspiration guides you to do. Of course, because the joker is in play, you don't know if you'll have the normal lifespan of 100 years... But that seems to make things more urgent, not less... Don't you agree? Carpe diem. Seize the day! And how do you carpe diem responsibly? By contributing right now. Get busy! This volume, like all in the Sub 4 Minute Extra Mile Series, is a collection of short, focused, intense, intended marketing, motivational, and mystical training sessions driving you to success!

In the new millennium, with all the advancements in the Internet and telecommunications, we can, and have been, virtually in more than one place at the same time. We check Facebook while having dinner with our friends, post photos of our trips abroad for people at home even as we're in the middle of an actual adventure, research for factoids during meetings, and even post on Twitter while we listen to the pastor at church. This may sound convenient and cool, but have we ever stopped to consider the cost of being "present" in several places at once? When was the last time you were truly present, right here, right now? Bestselling author Grace D. Chong explores the virtual world of millennials and makes a case for being truly present in this age of mobile phones, social media, and YOLO.

During the 1990s, the rural town of Cape Cove, Indiana, is the average heartland community with a small industrial area and a good portion of farmland surrounding the town proper. It's a quiet place, populated by friendly neighbors who know each other and each other's business. People in this small town have a way of finding their own enjoyment, and it's usually on "the up and up." The peace can't last forever, though. A few kids unsatisfied with the boring diversions of Cape Cove deviate from the everyday and discover that their quaint little town hides its fair share of dark secrets. Very few had an inkling of this until the summer of 1997 when a mysterious book called the Liber Malificous arrives in town and shines light on secrets that should have remained hidden. For fans of Harry Potter and Stranger Things, follow a close-knit group of friends as they encounter characters from fantasy and horror in small-town Indiana ... and nobody has a cell phone.

Author Kris Moller has lived and worked on several continents and in Eastern Third World countries through tumultuous times and personal hardships. These circumstances have given him the opportunity to form unique and thoughtful perspectives on life and our approach to it. In 50 Perspectives, Moller presents a compendium of fifty personal viewpoints. Offering a look at relationships, appreciation, improvement, health, and spiritual and financial matters, 50 Perspectives provides an opportunity to analyze your spiritual, intellectual, emotional, mental, social, and physical reaction to an array of topics. It suggests action steps to move forward in life in each of these areas. Moller shares how perspectives change with hindsight as you live through times of abundance and peace, hardship, danger, and even tragedy. Events and decisions may appear to be outside your control, cause you to lose much of what you own, and lead to a personal hell. But sober decision-making, steely resolve, inner strength, and belief let you recover and in retrospect connect the dots to help you emerge much the wiser.

The first four books in Lorelei Bell's 'Sabrina Strong Series' of urban fantasy novels, now available in one volume! Ascension: Left penniless after the death of her father, Sabrina Strong isn't thrilled about working for the North American Vampire Association. Driven by her desire to discover the identity of the mysterious in her dreams, Sabrina is attacked on her way to the interview. Her life is narrowly saved by a passing vampire - but could he be the one that turned her mother and marked Sabrina as his own so long ago? Trill: New friends and shocking revelations await Sabrina. After she learns what her role as a sibyl means, her partner Dante puts himself at great risk to discover more of Ilona Tremayne's schemes. A newcomer, Bill Gannon, is very interested in Sabrina, and while dealing with him she has to help Bjorn Tremayne maintain control of his realm. Soon, Sabrina's past catches up with her, and she discovers that not everyone is what she thought. Nocturne: When Sabrina's cousin Lindee goes missing, she fears that vampires are at the root of things. Beyond the Black Veil, vampires outnumber humans ten to one, and people are merely blood donors and objects of the vampires' sexual desires. With the Dagger of Delphi, Sabrina will face the Dreadfuls - merciless stalkers and killers. With her is also the stone containing the spirit of Dante Badheart, and more mysteries surround this magical artifact as well. Caprice: Dark World has set a bounty on Sabrina's head, and he needs to get her away from the only vampire who protects her: Vasyl. Sabrina's agenda was to enjoy Thanksgiving with her family without any interruptions. Unfortunately, a demon in the guise of her Grandmother Rose attacks her at the family gathering. After Bill Gannon saves her, Sabrina is whisked off by Bjorn Tremayne and his accomplice. Knowing that Tremayne's ultimate goal is to mate with Sabrina, Bill begins his chase. With the future of the whole Nephilim race at stake, will he make it in time?
