Offending the Audience, Self-Accusation,
 Observer Kaspar is based on the true story of Kaspar Hauser, a sixteen year old boy who appeared from nowhere in Nuremberg in 1828 and who had to be taught to speak from scratch. Handke's play is a downright attack on the way language is used by a corrupt society to depersonalize the individual.

Category:Plays by Peter Handke - Wikipedia
Offending the Audience (1966) is described as "a dissection of our expectations about what ought to happen in the theatre." It was originally conceived not as a play, but as a polemical essay about the theatre and a confrontation with each and every one of the conventions of which audiences have been accustomed to.
