What would you do if you knew you couldn't fail? If you've ever doubted yourself, allowed other people's negativity to stop you from doing what you want, or assumed that any success you've had in the past was just a case of 'pure luck', then you need The Mind Makeover. For many years Sharron Lowe has been the go-to coach for global luxury brands. She has coached thousands of people, helping them to make positive changes in how they think, feel and what they believe is possible. In doing so she has transformed the brands and people she works with. In The Mind Makeover, Sharron Lowe shares her success strategies. She will show you how to: create a positive inner voice, stop negative influences ruling your life, and build your confidence and self-belief. So what are you waiting for? A mind lift is much better than a face lift, and your mind is the key to living your best life yet. The Mind Makeover is essential reading for anyone who wants to take control of their life.

Who do you need around you?

Networking is an essential skill; it's the key to your success. So why are so many of our connections superficial and transactional? And why do they get us nowhere in our personal or professional life? Maybe because we've lost sight of the fact that it's not about the quantity of connections you make, but the quality of the relationships you build and nurture.

From internationally-acclaimed entrepreneur and Fortune 500 mentor Janine Garner, It's Who You Know shows you how to build, manage and leverage your power network to create opportunities and drive success. Networking still matters, but your network matters even more. With It's Who You Know, you can learn to connect with those who will add real value to your professional and personal development. Originally published in 2017, this book has been reviewed and redesigned to become part of the Wiley Be Your Best series - aimed at helping readers achieve professional and personal success.

Developing Person Through Childhood and Adolescence Houghton Mifflin Harcourt

The New York Times bestseller that gives readers a paradigm-shattering new way to think about motivation from the author of When: The Scientific Secrets of Perfect Timing Most people believe that the best way to motivate is with rewards like money—the carrot-and-stick approach. That's a mistake, says Daniel H. Pink (author of To Sell Is Human: The Surprising Truth About Motivating Others). In this provocative and persuasive new book, he asserts that the secret to high performance and satisfaction—at work, at school, and at home—is the deeply human need to direct our own lives, to learn and create new things, and to do better by ourselves and our world. Drawing on four decades of scientific research on human motivation, Pink exposes the mismatch between what science knows and what business does—and how that affects every aspect of life. He examines the three elements of true motivation—autonomy, mastery, and purpose—and offers smart and surprising techniques for putting these into action in a unique book that will change how we think and transform how we live. Teens talk to adults about how they develop motivation and mastery Through the voices of students themselves, Fires in the Mind brings a game-changing question to teachers of adolescents: What does it take to get really good at something? Starting with what they already know and do well, teenagers from widely diverse backgrounds join a cutting-edge dialogue with adults about the development of mastery in and out of school. Their insights frame motivation, practice, and academic challenge in a new light that galvanizes more powerful learning for all. To put these students' ideas into practice, the book also includes practical tips for educators. Breaks new ground by bringing youth voices to a timely topic—motivation and mastery. Includes worksheets, tips, and discussion guides that help put the book's ideas into practice. Author has 18 previous books on adolescent learning and has written for the New York Times Magazine, Educational Leadership, and American Educator. From the acclaimed author of Fires in the Bathroom, this is the next-step book that pushes the conversation to next level, as teenagers tackle the pressing challenges of motivation and mastery.

Written in the style of "Tuesdays with Morrie"-Mystical Mentor, based on a true story, is a powerful pathway filled with simple exercises anyone can use to break through barriers. If it feels like something is missing and you have yet to find your rightful place, this book may have been written for you. Richard was well-dressed and attempting to impress others when he met Russell Swank, a humble self-made multi-millionaire. The real Richard, the man behind his mask, had trouble making ends meet but instantly felt Russell had the answers. Through a series of weekly meetings and eye-opening assignments, Richard was inspired to transform his life from just over broke to a grand adventure. This journey that Richard took did not reveal new truths-there aren't any. Russell helped Richard see life's most powerful truths in new light. If you are willing to dive in and apply some of the concepts, doors will open and rewarding changes will occur. Mystical Mentor is not a religious book-it is a spiritual book. When Richard (Dick Warn) told Russell that he would be writing this book, Russell made Dick promise to not share any concept that he had not proven. The proving took
