The Calendar Project began in 2007 as my travel photography lay sitting in my computer, never having been seen but by a few To display some of these photos, my wife, Becki, and I decided to create art photography calendars as Christmas gifts. Becki picks the theme and I provide the images. The calendars quickly became popular and the project thrives today. I have been truly fortunate to travel the world as both an Air Force pilot and a curious wanderer. So far, the themes have been:2008: Scenery2009: People2010: Aviation2011: Animals2012: Outdoor Art of New Mexico As you may tell from the images, my photography and equipment have changed over the years but it was important to include some earlier shots to show both the themes and growth over the years. Those early shots were taken in 1983 with my first film SLR, a Nikon FM. Later film photos are from a Minolta X370. In the digital age, I have used an AGFA CL50, Canon G9, a Canon EOS 20D and since 2009, a Canon 5D Mk II. Some are even scans from a disposable drugstore camera! It has been a joy from start to finish!To view all the photos and more, or purchase individual photographs, visit the author's Photo website:

So, as this year marks the tenth anniversary, I have decided to continue with a second volume, "Three Quarters Towards Nowhere." Don't worry, I won't ever get there, and that is, actually, the point!

To mark the 40th anniversary of Insight Guides, the leading publisher of visual travel guides, we are publishing our very own Insight Guide to Travel Photography. This practical and informative guide will appeal to keen amateurs as well as complete beginners and covers everything from the history of travel photography to digital processing and the sharing and selling of your own images. The guide features expert advice on how to capture stunning photographs whatever the time of day or year, helped by our destination calendar which conveniently highlights when places are at their most photogenic. Illustrated sections explore all aspects of technique from lighting and composition to camera settings, exposure and lenses.

'The Journey' section explores every kind of travel photography, including Setting Out, Landscapes, Elements and Skyscapes, The Built Environment, People, Wildlife, Details and Close-ups, Transport and Active Pursuits. A section offering tips on how to establish a rapport with people and photograph them successfully and respectfully in their environment in order to gain a greater insight into their world is entirely unique to this guide. Authoritative feature essays focus on areas such as 'Capturing the Soul', 'The Family of Man' and 'Flash Photography'. The handy 'At Home' section provides invaluable advice for preparing for your trip, including what to take and planning the journey, local customs, insurance and protecting your camera. There is also plenty of tips for processing, including how to download safely and getting the most from your images. A full and extensive glossary also details technical jargon, for anything you may need to know. This inspirational and practical guide is of a portable size making it a useful on-the-spot handbook, yet comprehensive enough to be a wonderful reference guide at home.

"Get ready for a beauty overload. It's food for the soul, it's a book of dreams and details, of flowers so perfect you want to hug them to you." —Carla Coulson, author of Paris Tango Paris—City of Love, City of Light, City of Flowers. From elegant floral boutiques to lively flower markets to glorious blooming trees and expansive public gardens, flowers are the essential ingredient to the lush sensory bouquet that is Parisian life. With beautiful photography, Paris in Bloom transports readers on a stunning floral tour of the city, and provides recommendations to the best flower markets and a detailed guide to spring blooms. Timeless in content, Paris in Bloom is a book for Paris lovers to savor again and again, one to keep on the nightstand to conjure fond memories of their first visit and inspire dreams of the next. "Brilliantly captures the splendor of French fleurs with lush photographs and elegant prose . . . A masterpiece!" —Laura Dowling, former chief floral designer at the White House "I don't know how Georgianna does it. She manages to make Paris, already the most beautiful city in the world, appear even more charming, more elegant and more beautiful than it already is . . . Paris in Bloom is filled with a veritable carpet of pinks and whites, pastels and green portraits that make me let out an audible sigh of joy. This book can re-inspire you to believe that yes, life really is quite beautiful." —Doni Belau, author of Paris Cocktails "Destined to become a classic of its type, Paris in Bloom is Georgianna Lane's love letter to Paris and to flowers." —Gray Levett, editor of
