Institute of chartered accountants Palala Press

This book, first published in 1986, analyses the lives and careers of the founding members of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland. Contemporary professional accountancy owes its formal beginnings to the nineteenth-century Scottish accountants who formed the first professional bodies, and this book provides valuable insights for the accounting historian on the backgrounds, education, work styles and integrity of those early accountants.

Summarises the findings of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia's Vision 2020 Taskforce. The aim of the Taskforce was to examine future issues for the profession, identify challenges and potential solutions for the Chartered Accountancy profession in Australia. The starting point was the business trends predicted by overseas vision initiatives (England, Canada, and America). The paper describes the future as envisioned by the Taskforce; the main outputs are: the major changes that will impact on the business environment in the next 20 years; the challenges and opportunities that these changes will present to the profession and the business community; the roles the institute will need to adopt to successfully lead the profession into the next century.
