Character is doing what is right when no one else is looking. Keep your fears to yourself, but share your courage with others. Never put the key to your happiness in someone else's pocket. Quantity is what you count; quality is what you count on. Very few burdens are heavy if everyone lifts. These are just a few of the quotations that I have included in this book. It is a culmination of over four decades of gathering quotes and sayings, noticing church and marquee signs and bumper stickers and, most recently, researching on the Internet. In the preface for this book, I went through and listed quotes that meant a lot to me, but as I look back, I realize that they all mean something to me. I hope that you can use them for motivation, reflection, and inspiration. When Your Past Calls, Don't Answer. It Has Nothing New to Say Hachette Books [This book presents that] inspiration can be cultivated and be a driving force throughout life, rather than showing up every now and then and just as mysteriously disappearing, seemingly independent of our desires.-Back cover. Just Who Will You Be? Createspace Independent Publishing Platform In response to our quest for something to believe in, Prisoners of Hope: 111 Inspiring Stories provides a series of inspirational short stories based on specific Bible passages and parables. With humor and heartfelt wisdom, readers will learn how ordinary people have found hope in how the words of the Bible have been reflected in their everyday lives. From a baby girl who was abandoned by her mother at a Holiday Inn only to be adopted by a loving family, to the solace that a wealthy man found in the words "In God We Trust" on a found penny, the stories show us that no matter what the circumstances, the answers are always found in the words of the Lord.  Inspiration Point is aptly titled. The stories and anecdotes enable the reader to slow the day's pace and take a few moments for personal reverie. Steven Ray Bowen writes as an "every man" in a warm, homey style, and relates his memoirs with sensitivity and feeling. As Zig Ziglar would say, he "paints word pictures" that enable the reader to visualize and even "feel" the events he describes. This is pleasant, enjoyable reading." Laurie Magers, Executive Assistant to Zig Ziglar Warning In Inspiration Point, you will go on a special journey with author Steven

Bowen. But you have to be warned that there could be a few hazards along the way. At times you'll feel an unexpected tugging at your heartstrings or a sharp pain in your side from laughing. In either case, make sure you have a tissue along But the benefits of hiking up to Inspiration Point far outweigh those small hazards, because you'll visit some special scenes. You'll meet a preacher who wet his pants every night, you'll sit by Mama's bedside and hear her amazing words, you'll meet a man who can touch his chin to his nose, and you'll watch as two big brothers send the little brother to the moon Plus, you'll discover something amazing about one special date: October 3. But, maybe best of all, you'll get to sit at Grandma's table. So . grab your tissue, tighten up your boot straps, pour yourself a cold glass of sweet tea, and get ready for a hike. When you finally catch your breath at the bottom of the hill, there'll be no doubt where you've been.

Being a young person with big dreams and high goals I find that the road is not always easy to navigate. In tough times following failures and setbacks I like to keep myself motivated with inspirational messages; it helps me regain my inner strength and keep me moving forward. This book features a selection of my favorite inspiring sayings; I hope you find it as much helpful as I did. Here's a small taste of what's in the book: Winners versus Losers The Winner is always a part of the answer; The Loser is always a part of the problem. The Winner always has a program; The Loser always has an excuse. The Winner says, "Let me do it for you;" The Loser says, "That's not my job." The Winner sees an answer for every problem; The Loser sees a problem in every answer. The Winner says, "It may be difficult but it's possible;" The Loser says, "It may be possible but it's too difficult." Why Worry 40% of the things I worry about will never happen, for anxiety is the result of a tired mind. 30% Concern old decisions which cannot be altered. 12% center in criticisms, mostly untrue, made by people who feel inferior. 10% is related to my health which worsens while I worry. 8% is legitimate, showing that life does have real problems which may be met head on when I have eliminated senseless worries. Watch Your Thoughts Watch Your Thoughts. They Become Words. Watch your Words. They Become Actions. Watch Your Actions. They Become Habits. Watch Your Habits. They Become Character. Watch Your Character. For It Becomes Your Destiny. Ten Rules for the Good Life Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself. Never spend your money before you have it. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will never be dear to you. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst, and cold. Never repent of having eaten too little. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly. Don't let the evils which have never happened cost you pain. Always take things by their smooth handle.

When angry, count to ten before you speak; if very angry, count to one hundred. (This is a list of "Thomas Jefferson's ten rules for the good life")

God's Days There are two days in the week upon which and about which I never worry -- two carefree days kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is Yesterday. Yesterday, with its cares and fret and pains and aches, all its faults, its mistakes and blunders, has passed forever beyond my recall. It was mine; it is God's. The other day that I do not worry about is Tomorrow. Tomorrow, with all its possible adversities, its burdens, its perils, its large promise and performance, its failures and mistakes, is as far beyond my mastery as its dead sister, Yesterday. Tomorrow is God's day; it will be mine. There is left, then, for myself but one day in the week - Today. Any man can fight the battles of today. Any woman can carry the burdens of just one day; any man can resist the temptation of today. It is only when we willfully add the burden of these two awful eternities - Yesterday and Tomorrow - such burdens as only the Mighty God can sustain - that we break down. It isn't the experience of Today that drives men mad. It is the remorse of what happened Yesterday and fear of what Tomorrow might bring. These are God's Days ... Leave them to Him.

"I've learned that asking ourselves not just what we want to be, but who we want to be is important at every stage of our lives, not just when we're starting out in the world. That's because in a way, we're starting out fresh in the world every single day." Just Who Will You Be is a candid, heartfelt, and inspirational book for seekers of all ages. Inspired by a speech she gave, Maria

Shriver's message is that what you do in your life isn't what matters. It's who you are. It's an important lesson that will appeal to anyone of any age looking for a life of meaning. In her own life, Shriver always walked straight down her own distinctive path, achieving her childhood goal of becoming "award-winning network newswoman Maria Shriver". But when her husband was elected California's Governor and she suddenly had to leave her job at NBC News, Maria was thrown for a loop. Right about then, her nephew asked her to speak at his high school graduation. She resisted, wondering how she could possibly give advice to kids, when she was feeling so lost herself. But in the end she relented and decided to dig down and dig deep, and the result is this little jewel. Just Who Will You Be reminds us that the answer to many of life's question lie within--and that we're all works in progress. That means it's never too late to become the person you want to be. Now the question for you is this: Just who will you be?
