Guide This guide is written to help you move around Norway with ease and to enable you to enjoy your stay in Norway. We have focused on all the tips you need to get a visa to Norway, getting car hire on arrival at the airport, the meals and places to dine at and the most amazing places to tour and have a breathtaking moment in there. Travelling isn't just about fun; it is much more. It can be about finding yourself, exploring cultures, meeting people, understanding the traditions, comparing ways of lives, encountering new languages, getting to taste new cuisines and seeing the vast expanses of nature and the creations of man. Life could be called the culmination of all the experience one has in the world. A man becomes mature not just by a number getting higher in the count of the number of years he has lived, but by the things he has done, the acts he has witnessed, the people he has come across, the places he has known and the adventures he has made. All this taken together is what we call experience as a whole. It is a truth that no one would deny that one of the best ways to experience things and live life is to read, and next to it the best way to get the experience of a lifetime is to travel. There are many places one could travel to, but one of the most interesting places to travel to and the most visited places of all of the world is Europe. The exotic nature of Europe is what has been interesting people for centuries. One of the places in Europe is Norway. Norway is one of three Scandinavian countries and is known for its beautiful and long extending coasts. Surrounded by Finland, Sweden, and Russia, it is known for its beauty and scenery. The fjords in Norway are famous world over and are well admired for their rocky areas. Norway is a large country with just a population of 5 million and thus sparsely populated. One of the best times to visit the country could be in the winters which give you an amazing feel of the cold and the snow. Other places to visit focused on here are: Lofoten, Scandinavian, Spitsbergen, Museum, National park, Bergen, Oslo, Tromsø, Dovre Mountains and much more. You will also have a chance to interact with the Norwegians and learn their culture and festivals. It is not only a pleasant place to take your family for holidays but also a place to enjoy the world's beauty. Travel to Norway is the easiest using air transport rather than the roads or trains. Even in Norway itself, people travel from town to town using air travel. The prices of the tickets vary whether you are traveling to the northern part of the country or the south of the country. It is my hope that this book will be your companion throughout your travel and stay in Norway. Enjoy! Order now! Click the orange button

Berlitz Pocket Guide Oslo Apa Publications (UK) Limited Are you excited about planning your next trip? Do you want to try something new? Would you like some guidance from a local? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then this Greater Than a Tourist book is for you. Greater Than a Tourist - Oslo Norway by Irma Vuckovic offers the inside scoop on Oslo Norway. Most travel books tell you how to travel like a tourist. Although there is nothing wrong with that, as part of the Greater Than a Tourist series, this book will give you travel tips from someone who has lived at your next travel destination. In these pages, you will discover advice that will help you throughout your stay. This book will not tell you exact addresses or store hours but instead will give you excitement and knowledge from a local that you may not find in other smaller print travel books. Travel like a local. Slow down, stay in one place, and get to know the people and culture. By the time you finish this book, you will be eager and prepared to travel to your next destination. Inside this travel guide book you will find: Insider tips from a local. Packing and planning list. List of travel questions to ask yourself or others while traveling. A place to write your travel bucket list. OUR STORY Traveling is a passion of the Greater than a Tourist book series creator. Lisa studied abroad in college, and for their honeymoon

Lisa and her husband toured Europe. During her travels to Malta, an older man tried to give her some advice based on his own experience living on the island since he was a young boy. She was not sure if she should talk to the stranger but was interested in his advice. When traveling to some places she was wary to talk to locals because she was afraid that they weren't being genuine.

Through her travels, Lisa learned how much locals had to share with tourists. Lisa created the Greater Than a Tourist book series to help connect people with locals. A topic that locals are very passionate about sharing.

The Rough Guide to Norway Fodor's Travel "There is a conspiracy painted in Rembrandt's The Nightwatch. The sinister title of the painting alone suggests we should look for it. And we should listen too to the sound-track of the painting. Amongst all the hullabaloo, the dogs barking, the drummer drumming, the clattering of thirteen pikes, the hallowing of Banning-Cocq, the loudest sound is of a musket shot. You can see the flame of the firing, bursting forth behind the head of the foreground shining figure in yellow, who carries the head of his halberd where his prick should be, and whose belly is groped by the shadow of the hand of his companion. Where did the bullet go? We should investigate, and when we do, in the end, with a little ingenious adventuring, we can plainly see that the whole gaudy endeavour of this painting of Rembrandt's Nightwatch, probably the third most celebrated painting, in the Western World after Leonardo's

Mona Lisa, a subversive painting if every there was one, and Michelangelo's Sistine offering, certainly a pagan painting paid for by a Christian pope, is going to stir up trouble. It is, in that tradition where great painters are known by their Christian names, Rembrandt's great subversive act - his J'aceuse. The painting is a demonstration of murder with the murderers all picked out in detail. How delicious is the thought that Rembrandt got paid, and got paid quite well for revealing the truth about that part-time home-guard, Amsterdam burgher-party playing at soldiers in the Golden Age of Holland's greatest fifteen minutes of Warhole good fortune."--
