Making the most of your garden means remembering what you did when - only then can you identify what works and what doesn't. Making notes allows you to keep a record of your growing experience, planning ahead to order seeds and plants and create successful successional plantings for year-round colour and interest. The RHS Gardener's Notebook is a structured record book encouraging you to identify strengths and weaknesses of your garden. There's graph paper for planning out beds, crop rotation charts for vegetable patches, space to record harvest yields, an expenses and suppliers section plus a journal for recording day-to-day activities in the garden

The "RHS Diary" and "Address Book for 2007" are illustrated with watercolour drawings from two books compiled by Robert Sweet (1782 - 1835). These are "The British Flower Garden" (1823 - 37), and "The Florist's Guide" (1827 - 32). Sweet worked in his brother's Bristol nursery before moving to a similar job in London. He began publishing works on newly introduced plants. Many of these are illustrated by Edwin Dalton Smith. Each week features a full-page colour illustration and the diary includes the dates of all the RHS Flower Shows as well as national and religious holidays and astronomical information. This is the fifteenth year that Frances Lincoln has produced the hugely popular RHS diary. Beautifully produced in week-to-view format with a colour picture on every spread, and with a fresh contemporary design, it is a perfect gift for nature, art and garden lovers alike. It is also available in a spacious desk version.

The Royal Horticultural Society Desk Diary

2012 showcases the work of eight women artists whose work dates from the 19th century to the 20th century. Some, like Augusta Withers, Margaret Meen, and Nelly Roberts, were professional artists, illustrating books and magazines, whereas little is known of others, such as Caroline Applebee and Lydia Penrose, whose private work was donated to the RHS Lindley Library. This diary is a rare opportunity to celebrate the work of these women artists, professional or amateur. This best-selling week-to-a-view diary is illustrated in full colour throughout and has a storage pocket on the inside cover. It is also available in a pocket format and with a companion address book.

Plant and Record Book*

Good records are as important to gardening as good soil. With detailed notes, a gardener knows what tasks were completed and when, which seed strains grew and which failed to thrive, when the tomatoes were set out, and what works in their particular plot of earth and what doesn't. Proper recordkeeping is much easier -- and far more enjoyable -- with the "The Royal Horticultural Society Gardener's Notebook." This handsome, structured record book includes an undated journal section that allows for flexible recording of day-to-day activities, crop rotation charts for the vegetable patch, space to record dates and yields of crops, graph paper to plan out beds, and even a section for expenses and suppliers. Spiral-bound, with an elastic closure and eight tabbed dividers, and illustrated throughout with color images from the Royal Horticultural Society's Lindley Library, the journal is a thoughtful gift for any gardener.

The Royal Horticultural Society Address Book focuses on works of art done on vellum. Paintings on vellum have a luminosity and richness that is quite unlike those on paper. The address book features works of art on vellum which date mainly from the 18th century and includes paintings by Aubriet (1665-1742), Ehret (1708-70), Bolton (1758-1799), Turpin (1775-1840) and others. The address book has a storage pocket, a stepped tabbed index, ribbon marker and is illustrated in colour throughout.
