« La Divinité ne s'est servie que d'un seul caractère pour donner à chacune des créatures son signe, sa figure et sa forme, de manière qu'elles apparaissent comme autant de miracles du Mystère céleste ou terrestre. Ce caractère est la croix universelle qui s'étend à travers tous les trois principes dans les sphères et les tourbillons de la Nature. Telle est l'idée qui se trouve dans le frontispice dessiné par Gichtel pour le Signatura Rerum, et que développent les seize chapitres de ce livre. Il a été une fois traduit en français, vers 1660, par un médecin, Jean Mandré, qui n'a réussi qu'à le rendre un peu plus inintelligible. Plus présomptueux que L.-C. de Saint-Martin, qui a mis un soin scrupuleux à rendre littéralement les idées de « son chérissime Boehme », j'ai cru qu'en supprimant les répétitions, en élaguant les périodes, en ajoutant des arguments, le lecteur moderne qui ne dispose pas de beaucoup de temps pourra mieux saisir le sens de ces textes profonds. Boehme n'a d'ailleurs jamais prétendu consigner des choses nouvelles ; tout ce qu'il dit se trouve dans l'Écriture et à l'école de la Nature. Par conséquent, pour le comprendre, il faut réaliser la vraie religion : imiter et suivre Jésus dans ses souffrances et sa mort, afin de revivre avec lui. C'est justement ce processus de la régénération simultanée de l'âme et du minéral, que décrit le présent livre, en se servant de la terminologie alchimique. Je veux essayer d'en donner une traduction plus concise et débarrassée des répétitions qui abondent dans les œuvres de Boehme à cause de l'insuffisance de sa culture littéraire ; je me suis permis de placer quelques notes au bas des pages pour ceux qu'intéresse l'archéologie ésotérique. » (Préface de Paul Sédir)

Extrait : "Toute parole, tout écrit et tout enseignement sur Dieu est sans valeur si la connaissance de la signature n'y est point renfermée : car cela ne vient alors que de l'histoire et de l'ouï-dire, en qui l'Esprit est muet ; mais si l'Esprit dévoile la signature, on entend alors et on comprend comment l'Esprit s'est manifesté hors de l'Essence, par le principe, dans le son et avec la voix." - Includes a dictionary of nearly 300 magical plants with descriptions of each plant's scientific name, common names, elemental qualities, ruling planets, and zodiacal signatures, with commentary on medico-magical properties and uses • Explores methods of phytotherapy and plant magic, including the Paracelsian "transplantation of diseases," ritual pacts with trees, the secret ingredients of witches' ointments, and the composition of magical philters • Explains the occult secrets of phytogenesis, plant physiology, and plant physiognomy (classification of plants according to the doctrine of signatures) Merging the scientific discipline of botany with ancient, medieval, and Renaissance traditions of occult herbalism, this seminal guide was first published in French in 1902 as a textbook for students of Papus's École hermétique and sparked a revival in the study of magical herbalism in early twentieth-century France. Author Paul Sédir, pseudonym of Yvon Le Loup (1871-1926), explains the occult secrets of phytogenesis (the esoteric origin and evolutionary development of the plant kingdom), plant physiology (the occult anatomy of plants), and plant physiognomy (classification of plants according to the doctrine of signatures). Unveiling the mysteries behind planetary and zodiacal attributions, he provides readers with the keys to make their own informed determinations of the astral properties of plants. Moving from theory into practice, Sédir explores various methods of phytotherapy and plant magic, including the Paracelsian "transplantation of diseases," the secret ingredients of witches' ointments, and the composition of magical philters. In the third section of the book, Sédir offers a dictionary of magical plants that covers nearly 300 plant species with descriptions of their astral signatures, occult properties, and medico-magical uses. Compiled from an array of rare sources and esoterica, this classic text includes a wealth of additional materials and supplemental charts and diagrams drawn from Sédir's occult colleagues, all of whom adopted and expanded upon Sédir's pioneering system of plant correspondences.

Casuistry, the practice of resolving moral problems by applying a logical framework, has had a much larger historical presence before and since it was given a name in the Renaissance. The contributors to this volume examine a series of case studies to explain how different cultures and religions, past and present, have wrestled with morality's exceptions and margins and the norms with which they break. For example, to what extent have the Islamic and Judaic traditions allowed smoking tobacco or gambling? How did the Spanish colonization of America generate formal justifications for what it claimed? Where were the lines of transgression around food, money-lending, and sex in Ancient Greece and Rome?

How have different systems dealt with suicide? Casuistry lives at the heart of such questions, in the tension between norms and exceptions, between what seems forbidden but is not. A Historical Approach to Casuistry does not only examine this tension, but re-frames casuistry as a global phenomenon that has informed ethical and religious traditions for millennia, and that continues to influence our lives today.

Modern science informs us about the end of the universe: "game over" is the message which lies ahead of our world. Christian theology, on the other hand, sees in the end not the cessation of all life, but rather an invitation to play again, in God's presence. Is there a way to articulate together such vastly different claims? Eschatology is a theological topic which merits being considered from several different angles. This book seeks to do this by gathering contributions from esteemed and fresh voices from the fields of biblical exegesis, history, systematic theology, philosophy, and ethics. How can we make sense, today, of Jesus' (and the New Testament's) eschatological message? How did he, his early disciples, and the Christian tradition, envision the "end" of the world? Is there a way for us to articulate together what modern science tells us about the end of the universe with the biblical and Christian claims about God who judges and who will wipe every tear? Eschatology has been at the heart of Christian theology for 100 years in the West. What should we do with this legacy? Are there ways to move our reflection forward, in our century? Scholars and other interested readers will find here a wealth of insights.
