Edexcel (A) Advanced Geography meets the specific needs of AS and A2 students by providing comprehensive and accessible coverage of the Edexcel (A) specification. Printed in full colour and highly illustrated throughout, the textbook will guide students through the specification, helping them to develop the required knowledge and understanding of the core topics in physical and human geography examined in each unit. Written by Andy Palmer and Nigel Yates, both experienced authors and senior examiners, the textbook comprises 17 chapters, each covering in detail the subject content of one of the three sub-sections to each AS and A2 unit. Key terms are clearly explained and geographical processes and topics illustrated with up-to-date case studies and full-colour maps, graphs, diagrams and photographs. Regular examiner's advice explains the important points about a topic that students need to understand and apply correctly in the exam. Each chapter concludes with sample examination-style questions written to reflect the demands placed on students by the examination papers, and synoptic links to show how the topics relate to other parts of the specification.

Geography Hodder Education

Geographers regard fieldwork as a vital instrument for understanding our world through direct experience, for gathering basic data about this world, and as a fundamental method for enacting geographical education. The range of international geography and educational experts who contributed to this volume has demonstrated that the concept of fieldwork has a considerable history in the field of geography. They have demonstrated that the theoretical aspects of fieldwork have been interpreted differently in regions around the world, but the importance of fieldwork remains strong globally. A fresh look at the pedagogic implications for fieldwork in formal education offers ideas both for promoting it in geographical education and for maintaining its place in the geography curriculum. Audience: Forward-looking geographers and educators now recognise that alternative strategies, especially those involving the use of information technology, should be developed to reaffirm the centrality of fieldwork in geographical and wider education.

Advanced Geography Through Diagrams Hodder Murray

This volume arises from a cooperation between Ghanaian and German academics. It answers the need to have a more comprehensive and up to date volume which addresses key topics, areas and problems of the Ghanaian education system with a focus on history, policy, and curriculum-related issues. For many years now there have not been new comprehensive publications in this field, and it is necessary to introduce a lot of recent changes in Ghana's education system and reflect about their challenges. The information and positions collected in this volume will be of interest to Policy Makers, Educators, Lecturers, Scholars, Students, Teachers, Parents and other interested people of Ghana and other (West)-African countries. The book will also be of great interest to international scholars who want to understand the Ghanaian education system or are involved in academic projects such as internship, exchange programmes and joint research activities with Ghanaian academics and educational institutions. Akwasi Kwarteng Amoako-Gyampah (PhD) is a senior lecturer in the Department of History Education, University of Education, Winneba, Ghana and a senior research associate in the Department of History, University of Johannesburg, South Africa. Bea Lundt is Prof. (emer.) of History and still teaches at the Europe University Flensburg (Germany). She is also Guest-Professor at the University of Education, Winneba (UEW), Ghana.
