Splitting the Licks US Naval Institute Press

Throughout the 1980s the United States was shaken by an epidemic of "Satanic Ritual Abuse" witch-hunts targeting schools and day-care centers. Bewildered law-enforcement authorities found themselves besieged by "outraged" parents backed by abuse-pronouncing "play therapists" and tabloid media flame-fanners. That the outrage of the aggrieved parents quickly turned into multimillion-dollar claims and lawsuits merely inspired more copycat scams. In 1986 it was the turn of the Presidio of San Francisco, where a hapless day-care teacher became the scapegoat-of-choice for parents to file $74 million in claims - "validated" by the Army's own "play-therapist". Left out of this claims bonanza were Army Christian chaplain Larry Adams-Thomson and his wife Michele, so they invented new allegations against "Satanists" Michael and Lilith Aquino, then filed their own $3 million claim, using their own daughter as their pawn. The result was several years of horror and stress for the Aquinos, extending to a "black bag job" against them reaching to the highest levels of the Department of the Army. For years this story was untellable due to the numerous powerful and influential officials who committed crimes in the course of it. Now it can be exposed - and documented in 76 detailed appendices.

The Fourth International Conference on Ion Implantation: Equipment and Techniques was held at the Convention Center in Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, Germany, from September 13 to 17, 1982. It was attended by more than 200 participants from over 20 different countries. Several series of conferences have dealt with the application of ion implantation to semiconductors and other materials (Thousand Oaks, 1970; Garmisch-Partenkirchen, 1971; Osaka, 1974; Warwick, 1975; Boulder, 1975; Budapest, 1978; and Albany, 1980). Another series of conferences has been devoted to implantation equipment and techniques (Sford, 1977; Trento, 1978; and Kingston, 1980). This conference was the fourth in the latter series. Twelve invited papers and 55 contributed papers covered the areas of ion implantation equipment, measuring techniques, and applications of implantation to metals and semiconductors. A school on ion implantation was held in connection with the conference, and the lectures presented at this school were published as Vol. 10 of the Springer Series in Electrophysics under the title Ion Implantation Techniques (edited by H. Rysse1 and H. Glawischnig). During the conference, space was also provided for presentations and demonstrations by manufacturers of ion implantation equipment. Once again, this conference provided a forum for free discussion among implantation specialists in industry as well as research institutions. Especially effective in stimulating a free exchange of information was the daily get-together over free beer at the "Bier Adam". Many people contributed to the success of this conference.

In recent years, ion implantation has developed into the major doping technique for integrated circuits. Several series of conferences have dealt with the application of ion implantation to semiconductors and other materials (Thousand Oaks 1970, Garmisch-Partenkirchen 1971, Osaka 1974, Warwick 1975, Boulder 1976, Budapest 1978, and Albany 1980). Another series of conferences was devoted more to implantation equipment and techniques (Salford 1977, Trento 1978, and Kingston 1980). In connection with the Third International Conference on Ion Implantation: Equipment and Techniques, held at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, July 8-11, 1980, a two-day instructional program was organized parallel to an implantation conference for the first time. This implantation school concentrated on aspects of implantation-equipment design. This book contains all lectures presented at the International Ion Implantation School organized in connection with the Fourth International Conference on Ion Implantation: Equipment and Techniques, held at the Convention Center, Berchtesgaden, Germany, September 13-17, 1982. In contrast to the first school, the main emphasis in this school was placed on practical aspects of implanter operation and application. In three chapters, various machine aspects of ion implantation (general concepts, ion sources, safety, calibration, dosimetry), range distributions (stopping power, range profiles), and measuring techniques (electrical and non-electrical measuring techniques, annealing) are discussed. In the appendix, a review of the state of the art in modern implantation equipment is given.
