Recreational Vehicles; a Bibliography Xulon Press

You're ready to see the world your way in a house on wheels. Investing in a recreational vehicle is a big-purchase decision, and many first-time buyers may not know what to look for when shopping. In RV Buyer's Handbook, author Walt Gerber presents a guide to help you make sense of the ins and outs of buying an RV, which may prevent you from getting a "lemon" or a "money pit." Based on his years of experience camping and working as an RV inspector, Gerber offers a look at a host of factors to consider. He discusses the different types of RVs, reviews the array of features available, shares maintenance considerations and tips, and helps you understand the unit's many systems. From your first outing, to set up and tear down, to troubleshooting, and more RV Buyer's Handbook presents a single-source guide to help you navigate the process of choosing, equipping, and enjoying an RV.

Special Study Penguin

Inspiration is the story of why the author embarked into the world of motor homing. The story starts with the author's description of the gift his father gave him during life, and clarified during his last months of life. His father's clear and concise message was "live without regrets and be happy". Since the authors dream was to own a motor home one day, his fathers last messages were the guiding forces for the author to fulfill a life long dream. Subsequent chapters take the reader through the selection, negotiating and purchasing process the author followed in acquiring his first motor home; Country Coach Inspire. The information presented focuses on Class A diesel "pusher" motor homes. However, the basic information could provide a valuable resource for those interested in purchasing any class of motor home. Later chapters describe the travels and experiences of the first year and half of ownership. The trips include the famous "shakedown trip" known to all owners of motor homes ending with service at the Country Coach factory in Junction City, Oregon. The author then takes the reader across the country as he and his family embark on a history tour of the U.S.

Anybody from the RV owner to the service technician can comprehend and determine troubles with an RV refrigerator. In this practical manual, the authors provide profound discussions in troubleshooting. True to its name, Average Joe's RV Refrigerator: Troubleshooting & Repair Guide aims to help any person in making minor repairs by himself/herself. It also supplies information that helps one know whether or not his/her service tech is qualified to make an educated analysis of the problems and is able to do the repairs successfully with the least amount of cost available to the consumer. Geared to assist any individual anytime, anywhere, Average Joe's RV Refrigerator: Troubleshooting & Repair Guide is a handy book that will be of use for both personal and business needs. Book Review: "Average Joe's RV Refrigerator Troubleshooting and Repair Guide made me feel confident that I (an average Joanne) could pull out my own RV refrigerator and know what I was looking at, what to check first depending on the problem, and where to proceed from there. Without the guide, I'd never know where to start. There are a lot of photos and the troubleshooting charts are easy to read, with a column for symptoms, possible problem areas, and causes and remedies. They identify specific problems for which I need to call on a repair specialist but I was surprised to see that many of the remedies are simple enough that I would not be afraid to tackle them myself. This guide will help anyone assess problems with thier RV refrigerator and try, first, to fix it yourself, thereby saving on costly repair bills." frugal-rv-travel

What do Henry Ford, Thomas Edison, Mae West, Howard Hughes, John Madden, the Partridge Family, Ken Kesey, The Who, and Barbie have in common? Each had a home on wheels-be it an old converted school bus, a massive RV cruiser, or elegant house car. These celebrity motorhomes are only the frosting on the cake in Douglas Keister's entertaining and informative new book Mobile Mansions. From the eclectic to the exquisite, the luxurious to the rare, Keister's incredible photography showcases the history and diversity of some of the most historic and lovingly restored RVs on the road today. Keister documents an amazing range of vehicles, including small camp cars from the 1920s, house cars from the 1930s, campers from the 1950s and finally modern-day motorhomes that first emerged in the 1960s. Well-known brands like Winnebago, GMC, and Travco are featured as well as one-of-a-kind vehicles like the Lamsteed Kampcar, built by Anheuser Busch, the Zeppelin House Car, and Buckminster Fuller's Dymaxion car. Step inside a wide variety of motorhomes, from diminutive camp cars to diesel-belching, lumbering leviathans complete with saunas, balconies, and gourmet kitchens. Mobile Mansions details this fascinating chapter of America's history with lively text, luscious full color photographs, rare vintage photographs and offers a concise history of the recreational vehicle.

Time spent with the family in a Coachmen Leprechaun or a Holiday Rambler is unforgettable. Indiana retains a unique place in the RV industry going back to the 1930s, when pioneering individuals like Milo Miller, Harold Platt and Wilbur Schult created the original RV businesses in the Elkhart-South Bend area, making campers for sale. By the end of World War II, the national media was identifying Elkhart as the "Trailer Capital of the World." That status has been reinforced ever since, and the industry is still thriving in Indiana with the successes of Thor Industries and Forest River. Join author and RV expert Al Hesselbart as he chronicles how the Hoosier State became the RV Capital of the World.
