Gentleness Nine Fruits of the Spirit

If you had the chance to read a letter from perhaps the most educated, intelligent, and well-read man of his time, would you do it? If that man were imprisoned, in daily danger of execution, and wanted to impart what he has learned to those he cared about, would it not be of great interest to any thinking person? And would not this be especially true if he were inspired by God himself in the construction of the letter? That is exactly what we have in the book of Philippians. Written by the man known as the apostle Paul, we see important truths he has to impart about: Living a life that matters regardless of ones circumstances. Experiencing joy in ones life even when under great pressure. The privileges of Roman citizenship compared to citizenship in heaven. Enjoying a healthy thought life and inner peace. In short, we learn important truths about an eternal formula for success. Dive in for another life-changing adventure in Gods Word. Gordon Haresign, internationally known author, professor, speaker, and member of the board of directors of Scripture Union, speaking about the Dynamic Bible Studies series produced by Scheeren, has said, These are among the finest, if not the finest, inductive Bible studies available today. I strongly endorse them. This sentiment was echoed by Dr. Dilo Paul, a materials scientist, who said, I love these studies as they guide me through finding the answers to questions that arise during Bible study from the Bible itself.

Through her popular interactive Dharma Dialogues (dharmameaning "truth" or "the way"), Catherine Ingram has helped thousands of students in their quest for awakening by encouraging them to give up the quest and let their own "heart intelligence" guide them in life. Through her work, Ingram has found that most people are imbued with "passionate presence," but often overlook it because they are searching for something more dramatic elsewhere. In this book, she invites readers to simply to relax into their own passionate presence and the innate awakened qualities that come with this relaxation: Silence, Tenderness, Discernment, Embodiment, Authenticity, Delight, and Wonder. With illuminating anecdotes and personal reflections, she describes the seven traits, imparting a sense of the mystery of the world through direct experience, rather than through expounding any particular belief or tradition. Plautus was the single greatest influence on Western comedy. Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors and Molière's The Miser are two subsequent classics directly based on Plautine originals. Plautus himself borrowed from the Greeks, but his jokes, rapid dialogue, bawdy humour, and irreverent characterizations are the original work of an undisputed genius. The comedies printed here show him at his best, and professor Segal's translations keep their fast, rollicking pace intact, making these the most readable and actable versions available. His introduction considers Plautus' place in ancient comedy, examines his continuing influence, and celebrates his power to entertain.
