World History, 4th edition, recounts the story of mankind from creation to the present. Students examine ancient civilizations through the Greeks to the Roman Empire. Then they survey India, Asia, and Africa on their way to the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, and the Reformation, upon which modern history is founded. They are challenged to discover the forces, issues, people, and movements that have shaped our modern world. God's providence and Bible integration are given prominence as the students are taught to view the world through a Christian lens. - Publisher.

Inquiry-Based Lessons in World History, Grades 7-10 Routledge

"This is History Book. It explored the grand scheme of world history as a product of real-life human beings pursuing their individual and collective interests. It also offered a global perspective on the past by focusing on both the distinctive characteristics of individual societies and the connections that have linked the fortunes of different societies. It has combined a clear chronological framework with the twin themes of traditions and encounters, which help to make the unwieldy story of world history both more manageable and more engaging. From the beginning, Traditions & Encounters offered an inclusive vision of the global past—one that is meaningful and appropriate for the interdependent world of contemporary times"--

This framework, centered in the chronological study of history, proposes an integrated and correlated approach to the teaching of history and the social sciences. The framework is structured around three major goals, each comprising several curriculum strands which are to be developed from kindergarten through grade 12. The three goals are: (1) knowledge and cultural understanding; (2) democratic understanding and cultural values; and (3) skills attainment and social participation. The programs for kindergarten through the third grade are: (1) "Learning and Working Now and Long Age"; (2) "A Child's Place in Time and Space"; (3) "People Who Make a Difference"; and (4) "Continuity and Change." State history is taught in the fourth grade. Fifth graders study U.S. history from the pre-Columbian period through 1850. The sixth-grade program is developed around the ancient world to A.D. 500. The medieval and early modern world through 1789 are presented in grade 7, setting the context for the study of U.S. history from 1783 to 1914 in grade 8. The modern world from 1789 to the present is studied in grade 10. Eleventh grade provides an in-depth study of the United States from 1900 to the present. Students choose electives in grade 9 from a variety of courses. The culminating courses are principles of U.S. democracy and economics in grade 12.

Why should students have this book? First, this practice guide was written by three AP World History teachers with over 20 years of experience grading the AP World History Exam--they have seen it all and are sharing their expertise. Secondly, This guide can be used at any point in the school year. Writing prompts cover every era of history and are arranged in an easy-to-follow, chronological order. The writing practice section contains six DBQs, twelve LEQs, and seventy-two SAQs. This guide also has THREE multiple-choice practice tests. The first multiple-choice test covers the first three time periods (Paleolithic era to ~1500 C.E.) and is designed to be taken halfway through the course to give students an idea of where they stand. The other two multiple-choice exams cover the entire course curriculum. All multiple-choice questions and writing prompts are tied to the key concepts of the course and the answer key features comprehensive explanations and examples of student work. No other prep book offers this much practice material written to AP guidelines.

This document is a response to teachers' requests for practical assistance in implementing California's history-social science framework. The document offers stimulating ideas to enrich the teaching of history and social science, enliven instruction for every student, focus on essential topics, and help make learning more memorable. Experiences and contributions of ethnic groups and women in history are integrated in this course model. The framework is divided into 11 units: (1) Connecting with Past Learnings: Uncovering the Remote Past; (2) Connecting with Past Learnings: the Fall of Rome; (3) Growth of Islam; (4) African States in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times; (5) Civilizations of the Americas; (6) China; (7) Japan; (8) Medieval Societies: Europe and Japan; (9) Europe During the Renaissance, the Reformation, and the Scientific Revolution; (10) Early Modern Europe: The Age of Exploration to the Enlightenment; and (11) Linking Past to Present. Six of the 11 units delineated in the framework's 7th grade course description are developed in these course models. All units follow the same format. Each begins with a rationale and overview. Ways are suggested for teachers to coordinate the model with the state-adopted textbook for 7th grade. A presentation of activities to introduce and continue the sample topic are suggested to encourage students to apply what they have studied through projects. Each unit ends with an extensive annotated list of sample resources. (DK)
