Il n'existait pas en Bourgogne d'ouvrage regroupant les phénomènes inexplicés connus sous le terme d'ovni ou de PAN. Mon but est de vous faire découvrir ces témoignages ayant jalonné notre histoire bourguignonne depuis... 1461. Cette nouvelle édition est enrichie d'une quarantaine de nouveaux cas. Certains ont été résolus par des explications logiques, d'autres resterons des énigmes que l'avenir résoudra ou non. Il en manque certainement, notamment ceux de témoins n'ayant pas voulu s'exprimer par peur d'être mal jugé par l'opinion. J'en connais personnellement plusieurs. N'ayant pas vocation d'en juger le bien-fondé, je laisse volontiers à chacun d'entre vous d'exprimer votre libre-arbitre pour forger votre opinion personnelle tout en gardant une ouverture d'esprit. L'esprit critique constructif évite de croire à n'importe quoi, sans discernement. Des histoires à découvrir et à déguster sans modération.

A complete investigation of the development and suppression of antigravity and field propulsion technologies • Reveals advanced aerospace technologies capable of controlling gravity that could revolutionize air travel and energy production • Reviews numerous field propulsion devices that have thrust-to-power ratios thousands of times greater than a jet engine • Shows how NASA participates in a cover-up to block adoption of advanced technologies under military development In Secrets of Antigravity Propulsion, physicist Paul LaViolette reveals the secret history of antigravity experimentation--from Nikola Tesla and T. Townsend Brown to the B-2 Advanced Technology Bomber. He discloses the existence of advanced gravity-control technologies, under secret military development for decades, that could revolutionize air travel and energy production. Included among the secret projects he reveals is the research of Project Skyvault to develop an aerospace propulsion system using intense beams of microwave energy similar to that used by the strange crafts seen flying over Area 51. Using subquantum kinetics--the science behind antigravity technology--LaViolette reviews numerous field-propulsion devices and technologies that have thrust-to-power ratios thousands of times greater than that of a jet engine and whose effects are not explained by conventional physics and relativity theory. He then presents controversial evidence about the NASA cover-up in adopting these advanced technologies. He also details ongoing Russian research to duplicate John Searl's self-propelled levitating disc and shows how the results of the Podkletnov gravity beam experiment could be harnessed to produce an interstellar spacecraft. Vimanas and the wars of the gods Harlequin Perle de la littérature hindoue, merveille culturelle et philosophique, le Mahâbhârata nous renvoie plusieurs millénaires en arrière, à l'apogée de la civilisation hindoue, l'une des civilisations les plus raffinées du monde antique. Ce texte sacré plonge le lecteur dans une fascinante et dramatique rencontre entre les hommes et les divinités. En lisant le texte avec attention, nous avons la surprise de découvrir que les dieux étaient faits de chair et de sang, qu'ils se déplaçaient dans des vaisseaux aériens - les vimana - et qu'ils utilisaient des armes ressemblant à s'y méprendre à nos modernes armes de destruction massive. Dans ce livre, Fabrice Bianchin interprète le texte sacré d'une manière novatrice, posant une question essentielle : l'humanité a-t-elle été, dans le passé, l'objet d'une rencontre avec une race exogène, en clair : avec des extraterrestres ?

L'hypothèse est certes hardie mais la précision du texte, les descriptions qui y sont faites quant aux armes, aux techniques et aux prouesses des vimanas inclinent qu'elle est fondée et qu'elle mérite d'être prise en considération.

Footprints and the Stones of Time Kayemb Uriel Nawej

With compassion and compelling insight, the Pleiadians, those system-busting time-travelers from the future, take us on a journey through the uncharted lands of The Book of Earth, which comprises all human experience. While “our world goes belly-up in these most absurd of times,” they offer us “tools for survival.” During the crucial period between 1987 and 2012--a nanosecond in the annals of existence where secrets and solutions are stored--we have the unique opportunity to move from the deepest of density to the highest of frequencies--where we shift from linear to multi-dimensional living. To make this transition, we must face not only the limitations of our 3-D world with its electronic manipulation and mind control, we must embrace our own wounds, and those of our ancestors and our leaders. To heal ourselves, to raise our frequency from one of despair and fear to one of great inspiration and love, the Pleiadians urge us to rethink and reevaluate our lives: "You shall change, you will change, you must change, because this is the season of change."

Les objets volants non identifiés dit aussi PAN (phénomènes Aérospatial Non identifié) ou MOC (Mystérieux Objets Célestes) font partis de ces mystères qui nous interrogent sur notre condition humaine face à l'immensité de l'Univers. La Franche-Comté n'y échappe pas. Je vous invite à voyager ensemble parmi ces 151 cas ou témoignages collectés sur les quatre départements. Certains s'expliquent, d'autres restent questionnables. Ils sont certainement plus nombreux, mais il y a toujours la peur du regard de l'autre. A découvrir sans modération.

Selon les premiers textes sanskrits, les Anciens possédaient plusieurs types de dirigeables appelés vimanas. Comme les avions d'aujourd'hui, les vimanas étaient utilisés pour voler dans les airs de ville en ville, pour effectuer des relevés aériens de terres inexploitées et comme véhicules de livraison d'armes impressionnantes. David Hatcher Childress, auteur populaire de Lost Cities et star de l'émission Ancient Aliens de la chaîne History Channel, nous entraîne dans une enquête étonnante sur les histoires d'anciens engins volants. Dans son nouveau livre, truffé d'illustrations et de schémas, il consulte des textes anciens et des récits modernes et présente des preuves étonnantes que des engins volants, semblables à ceux que nous utilisons aujourd'hui, étaient utilisés il y a des milliers d'années en Inde, à Sumer, en Chine et dans d'autres pays. Cela signifie que ces anciennes civilisations disposaient d'une technologie avancée du métal, de l'électricité et des connaissances techniques du vol plusieurs milliers d'années avant notre propre ère de la technologie du vol. Childress aborde les observations d'OVNI, la fascinante histoire du vol ancien et la technologie utilisée dans les machines volantes des anciens. Secrets of Antigravity Propulsion Simon and Schuster Multiculturalism in the United States is commonly lauded as a positive social ideal celebrating the diversity of our nation. But, in reality, immigrants often feel pressured to create a singular formulation of their identity that does not reflect the diversity of cultures that exist in their homeland. Hindu Americans have faced this challenge over the last fifteen years, as the number of Indians that have immigrated to this country has more than doubled. In A Place at the Multicultural Table, Prema A. Kurien shows how various Hindu American organizations--religious, cultural, and political--are attempting to answer the puzzling questions of identity outside their homeland. Drawing on the experiences of both immigrant and American-born Hindu Americans, Kurien demonstrates how religious ideas and practices are being imported, exported, and reshaped in the process. The result of this transnational movement is an American Hinduism--an organized, politicized, and standardized version of that which is found in India. This first in-depth look at Hinduism in the United States and the Hindu Indian American community helps readers to understand the private devotions, practices, and beliefs of Hindu Indian Americans as well as their political mobilization and activism. It explains the differences between immigrant and American-born Hindu Americans, how both understand their religion and their identity, and it emphasizes the importance of the social and cultural context of the United States in influencing the development of an American Hinduism. Des ovnis dans le ciel de la Franche-Comté Rutgers University Press

The companion volume to The Earth Chronicles series that reveals the identity of mankind's ancient gods • Explains why these "gods" from Nibiru, the Anunnaki, genetically engineered Homo sapiens, gave Earthlings civilization, and promised to return • 30,000 sold in hardcover Zecharia Sitchin's bestselling series The Earth Chronicles provided humanity's side of the story concerning our origins at the hands of the Anunnaki, "those who from heaven to earth came.” In The Lost Book of Enki we now view this saga from the perspective of Lord Enki, an Anunnaki leader revered in antiquity as a god, who tells the story of these extraterrestrials’ arrival on Earth from the planet Nibiru. In his previous works Sitchin compiled the complete story of the Anunnaki’s impact on human civilization from fragments scattered throughout Sumerian, Akkadian, Babylonian, Assyrian, Hittite, Egyptian, Canaanite, and Hebrew sources. Missing from these accounts, however, was the perspective of the Anunnaki themselves. What was life like on their own planet? What motives propelled them to settle on Earth--and what drove them from their new home? Convinced of the existence of a lost book that held the answers to these questions, the author began his search for evidence. Through exhaustive research of primary sources, he has here re-created tales as the memoirs of Enki, the leader of these first “astronauts.” What takes shape is the story of a world of mounting tensions, deep rivalries, and sophisticated scientific knowledge that is only today being confirmed. An epic tale of gods and men unfolds, challenging every assumption we hold about our past and our future. The Lost Book of Enki

He died in 1994. Stringfield was director of Civilian Research, Interplanetary Flying Objects (CRIFO), and published a monthly newsletter, ORBIT. In 1957 he became public relations adviser for the civilian UFO group, National Investigations Committee On Aerial Phenomena (NICAP), under the direction of Donald Keyhoe, a friend since 1953. From 1967 to 1969, Stringfield served as an "Early Warning Coordinator" for the Condon Committee. During the 1970s, he wrote a number of books about alleged recoveries of alien spaceships and alien bodies. In 1978, Stringfield served as UFO research adviser to Grenada Prime Minister Sir Eric Gairy. Privately, Stringfield worked as Director of Public Relations and Marketing

Services for Du Bois Chemicals, a division of Chemed Corporation, Cincinnati. In addition to the numerous reports, articles etc., penned by Stringfield, he authored two books: Inside Saucer Post . . . 3-0 Blue and Situation Red, The UFO Siege. He self-published "Status Reports" on alleged UFO "crash-retrievals" until his death. He died December 18, 1994 after a long battle with lung cancer.  This is the story of the Terror Weapons developed by Hitler and Nazi Germany that were intended to be unleashed with devastating effect on the rest of the World. The book charts the development of the V rockets and their successes against allied targets. It then goes on to look at the even more sinister deadly weapons that Hitler was planning and developing, but fortunately did not succeed in producing. Hitler's Terror Weapons tells of the desperate efforts of the Nazis to produce war-winning weapons, and the measures taken by the Allies at the high levels to frustrate them in their aim.

 'The Smoky God, or A

Voyage Journey to the Inner Earth' is a book presented as a true account written by Willis George Emerson in 1908, which describes the adventures of Olaf Jansen, a Norwegian sailor who sailed with his father through an entrance to the Earth's interior at the North Pole. For two years Jansen lived with the inhabitants of an underground network of colonies who, Emerson writes, were 12 feet tall and whose world was lit by a "smoky" central sun. Their capital city was said to be the original Garden of Eden.

An astonishing book that will lead to rewrite the history of mankind. An unexplored world, a journey beyond the boundaries of human history. From over five thousand years India and Pakistan seem to guard jealously a forgotten past, a secret locked inside of the oldest traditions that human history knows. The journey starts from an highly evolved civilization but fall into oblivion, a culture that left to posterity a huge amount of texts transmitted orally and later merged into Hinduism. Traditions that speak of lost civilizations, wars fought between men and gods with highly advanced technologies and machines capable of flying in the air and in space called Vimana. Following the tracks and studies conducted in the '70s by David William Davenport, has set new light on the events that led to the destruction of the city of Mohenjo Daro (Pakistan) and the disappearance of the Harappan civilization trying their story to submerged ruins discovered in the Indian Ocean and dated back to 10,000 years ago.

Since antiquity, philosophers and engineers have tried to take life's measure by reproducing it. Aiming to reenact Creation, at least in part, these experimenters have hoped to understand the links between body and spirit, matter and mind, mechanism and consciousness. Genesis Redux examines moments from this centuries-long experimental tradition: efforts to simulate life in machinery, to synthesize life out of material parts, and to understand living beings by comparison with inanimate mechanisms. Jessica Riskin collects seventeen essays from distinguished scholars in several fields. These studies offer an unexpected and far-reaching result: attempts to create artificial life have rarely been driven by an impulse to reduce life and mind to machinery. On the contrary, designers of synthetic creatures have generally assumed a role for something nonmechanical. The history of artificial life is thus also a history of theories of soul and intellect. Taking a historical approach to a modern quandary, Genesis Redux is essential reading for historians and philosophers of science and technology, scientists and engineers working in artificial life and intelligence, and anyone engaged in evaluating these world-changing projects.

The Los Angeles Air Raid on February 24/25, 1942 opened an unprecedented chapter in the evolution of the U.S. Navy. In response to this incident, a covert research program to investigate the feasibility of exotic antigravity propulsion technologies was developed. In addition, Navy operatives were embedded in Nazi occupied Europe to learn about the Germans' advanced flying saucer programs, and they discovered the Nazis were receiving assistance from two extraterrestrial groups with very different agendas. The debriefing of the operatives took place at Naval Air Station, San Diego, led by Rear Admiral Rico Botta. He instructed a -Disseminator of Naval Research and Information-, William Tompkins, to take confidential briefing packets to select think tanks, corporations and university departments around the country. Later, Tompkins worked with a number of leading aerospace companies to design massive spacecraft for a secret U.S. Navy space program, and was fatefully assisted by extraterrestrial visitors described as -Nordics-. An extensive number of documents substantiate Tompkins' claims of the existence of a covert Navy program created to study, design and build deep space battle groups. They became operational in the 1980's. Now the Navy has a new goal to enact a plan to level the universal playing field, and the election of President Donald Trump may just be the wild card they needed to reveal ...
