"In post-World War II

France, commitment to cutting-edge technological modernization and explosive economic growth uprooted rural populations and eroded the village traditions of a largely peasant nation. And yet, this book argues, rural France did not vanish in the sweeping transformations of the 1950s and 1960s. The attachment of the French to rural ways and the agricultural past became a widely-shared preoccupation in the 1970s; this, in turn, became an engine of change in its own right. Though the French countryside is often imagined as stable and enduring, this book presents it as a site not just of decline and loss but also of change and adaptation. Rural Inventions explores the rise of restored peasant houses as second residences; utopian experiments in rural communes and in going back to the land; environmentalism; the literary success of peasant autobiographies; photography; and other representations through which the French revalorized rural life and landscapes. The peasantry as a social class may have died out, but the countryside persisted, valued as a site not only for agriculture but increasingly for sport and leisure, tourism, and social and political engagement; a place to dwell part-time as well as full-time; and a natural environment worth protecting. The postwar French state and the nation's rural and urban inhabitants remade the French countryside in relation to the city and to the world at large, not only invoking traditional France but also creating a vibrant and evolving part of the France yet to come"--

 Êtes-vous prêt(e) à reprendre le contrôle sur votre poids ? Vous avez déjà suivi plusieurs régimes mais toujours repris du poids ? Vous ne parvenez pas à maigrir malgré vos efforts et une alimentation saine ? Vous souffrez de compulsions alimentaires ? Ce livre ne vous propose pas un régime diététique de plus... car le problème ne vient peut-être pas de ce que vous mangez !

 Maîtriser son poids nécessite une communication parfaitement orchestrée entre notre cerveau et notre corps, c'est à dire entre nos signaux alimentaires (faim et satiété), nos comportements alimentaires, et notre métabolisme (ce que nous faisons des aliments ingérés). Si ces échanges sont déséquilibrés par le stress, les émotions et des habitudes inadaptées, la tête prend le dessus sur les besoins physiologiques : nous mangeons alors sans faim, avec comme conséquences une surcharge de graisses, les fameux « kilos de stress » ou « kilos émotionnels », dont il est difficile de se débarrasser par une approche traditionnelle. Plutôt que de faire un régime de plus, je vous propose donc de comprendre pourquoi vous grossissez malgré vos efforts. Mon objectif est de vous proposer des SOLUTIONS PRATIQUES pour : • reprogrammer votre cerveau et vous reconnecter aux sensations de faim et de satiété, pour faire correspondre vos prises de nourriture à vos besoins réels, • optimiser votre métabolisme en supprimant les freins biologiques à la perte de poids grâce à des conseils concrets : alimentation, compléments alimentaires, gestion du stress, amélioration du sommeil, etc. Êtes-vous prêt(e) à reprendre le contrôle sur votre poids ? Guide to the French language EDT srl

A fascinating account of the effects of turbulent history on one of Africa's most storied kingdoms, Kongo: Power and Majesty presents over 170 works of art from the Kingdom of Kongo (an area that includes present-day Republic of Congo, Democratic Republic of Congo, and Angola). The book covers 400 years of Kongolese culture, from the fifteenth century, when Portuguese, Dutch, and Italian merchants and missionaries brought Christianity to the region, to the nineteenth, when engagement with Europe had turned to colonial incursion and the kingdom dissolved under the pressures of displacement, civil war, and the devastation of the slave trade. The works of art—which range from depictions of European iconography rendered in powerful, indigenous forms to fearsome minkondi, or power figures—serve as an assertion of enduring majesty in the face of upheaval, and richly illustrate the book’s powerful thesis.

Il volume raccoglie gli atti del XXème Congrès International de la Société Rencesvals pour l'étude des épopées romanes (Sapienza - Università di Roma, 20-24 luglio 2015) e presenta lo stato dell'arte e le ricerche in corso sull'epica romanza medievale propriamente detta, sulla sua posterità nell'età moderna e sulla produzione non romanza a essa correlata, offrendo un panorama ricco – se non completo – degli attuali orientamenti scientifici e dei risultati raggiunti. Per il congresso di Roma – cui hanno preso parte studiosi provenienti dall'Europa, dal Nord e dal Sud America e dall'Africa – sono stati proposti i seguenti temi: I. Rome et l'Italie dans les chansons de geste; II. Phénomènes de cyclisation: grandes et petites gestes; III. Le XVe siècle: proses et renouvellements; IV.

L'histoire des recherches sur la matière de France; a questi si aggiungono gli interventi raccolti nella sezione Varia.

Within the field of Islamic Studies, scientific research of Muslim theology is a comparatively young discipline. Much progress has been achieved over the past decades with respect both to discoveries of new materials and to scholarly approaches to the field. The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Theology provides a comprehensive and authoritative survey of the current state of the field. It provides a variegated picture of the state of the art and at the same time suggests new directions for future research. Part One covers the various strands of Islamic theology during the formative and early middle periods, rational as well as scripturalist. To demonstrate the continuous interaction among the various theological strands and its repercussions (during the formative and early middle period and beyond), Part Two offers a number of case studies. These focus on specific theological issues that have developed through the dilemmatic and often polemical interactions between the different theological schools and thinkers. Part Three covers Islamic theology during the later middle and early modern periods. One of the characteristics of this period is the growing amalgamation of theology with philosophy (Peripatetic and Illuminationist) and mysticism. Part Four addresses the impact of political and social developments on theology through a number of case studies: the famous mihna instituted by al-Ma'mun (r. 189/813-218/833) as well as the mihna to which Ibn 'Aqil (d. 769/1367) was subjected; the religious policy of the Almohads; as well as the shifting interpretations throughout history (particularly during Mamluk and Ottoman times) of the relation between Ash'arism and Maturidism that were often motivated by political motives. Part Five considers Islamic theological thought from the end of the early modern and during the modern period.
