A-Z Of Mother's Day is a collection of 26 short, original poems. We know that many children, especially sons, might find it hard to put into words what their mother means to them, so we've lent a helping hand by writing this little book, which focuses on many of the different qualities that the world's best mothers bring to their demanding role. As the title suggests, there is one poem for each letter of the alphabet, with each poem focusing on a theme related to Mother's Day. Here's a sample poem from this collection: Y Is For Youthful You always have so many things on your plate One thing after another, from morn 'til late Up at the crack of dawn, in bed at midnight That's too much for one person, it's just not right However, there's something I really don't get For years I've pondered - I can't fathom it yet Unless you've got some form of magic potion Looking so young and aging in slow-motion The full list of all 26 poems is as follows: A Is For Affectionate B Is For Bewitching C Is For Creativity D Is For Daffodil E Is For Empathetic F Is For Fabulous G Is For Generous H Is For Humorous I Is For Incomparable J Is For Jelly Donut K Is For Kindness L Is For Ladylike M Is For Mother'S Day N Is For No-Nonsense O Is For One Of A Kind P Is For Positive Q Is For Queen Of The Home R Is For Reliable S Is For Supportive T Is For Telepathic U Is For Unwavering V Is For Virtuous W Is For Well-Mannered X Is For X-Ray Vision Y Is For Youthful Z Is For Zillions

Written over the course of five decades, The Mother Poems captures the slow, complex unfolding of a daughter's relationship with her mother and a poet's relationship with her art. The poems begin in 1964 when the poet was 16 and her mother 42. The last poem in the book was written in 2002, when the poet was 54, six years after her mother's death at 77.

The Love Between a Mother and Daughter Is Forever Xlibris Corporation

The Mother/Daughter Relationship gets a Makeover from the Feminine Divine. You love your mother, but she can drive you crazy. No matter what you do, it isn't quite good enough. When you speak up, mom says, "Well then, I guess I'm just a horrible mother." The mixed messages and guilt weighs you down and leaves you wondering if you can ever get it right. How can you turn this around, free yourself from self-doubt, and break the cycle for your own daughter? You can meditate, chant affirmations, and dutifully practice feeling grateful all you want, but you can't create the life you desire without addressing the issues around the person who first gave you life. Do you apologize chronically, saying, "I'm sorry" and "it's ok," when it isn't? Second-guess yourself with every decision? Look to others for your sense of self worth? Feel that you have to choose between looking good and feeling good? Come with me, as I show you how the problems you have with your mother mirror the problems you have in life. By understanding what has gone wrong in the mother/daughter relationship and turning it around, you activate the Feminine energy that is the key to having the life you've always wanted. Are you ready to rise up, come alive, and live beyond your mother's limiting messages? Rise up and claim your full true Feminine power! In psychotherapist's Katherine Fabrizio's ground breaking book, DAUGHTERS RISING, she tells you how your relationship with your mother is affecting your life in ways you have not yet imagined. Your struggle with mom mirrors the internal struggle you have with yourself. The impossible standards your mother tried to live up to has caused you to be filled with shame, guilt and self-doubt. It doesn't have to be this way. Buried in each disempowering message is a message of strength and hope when you get back online with your Feminine power. You can't get there with the masculine energy that held your mother down and is so prevalent in the western culture today. This book will break the spells that are holding you back from the life you've always wanted and show you the way home to claim your true Feminine power. Get clear on the mixed messages that were passed down to you and learn how to rise above those messages. What are you waiting for? Your life is waiting. See how you have had the power in you all along. This, my pretty, changes everything." My Mother Was a Freedom Fighter Independently Published Today's Little Ditty is more than a children's poetry blog, it's a poetry playground. They range from lighthearted to thought-provoking and appeal to a wide audience, from children to adults. Join the fun at michelleharnes.blogspot.com. What people are saying about Today's Little Ditty and the Ditty of the Month Club: "Sometimes a poet needs a bit of smooth transition into another poem, sometimes a kick to the rear. Today's Little Ditty supplies both. This goes for old poets as well as new!" - Jane Yolen, multi-award-winning author of more than 365 books "Writing with Michelle feels like I'm participating in a workshop. I've learned so much from keeping up with Today's Little Ditty." - Linda Mitchell, middle school teacher librarian "How to build your skills as a children's poet? Read anthologies! The Best of Today's Little Ditty is a great tutorial because each section contains several poems written from the same prompt. Maybe you'll find the best thing of all: that you write like no one other than yourself." - Janet Wong, children's poet and co-creator of The Poetry Friday Anthology and Poetry Friday Power Book series

Rock me to sleep, mother [a poem].

Knopf

Mary Rita Schilke Korzan wrote a poem to her mother 24 years ago, thanking her for all she had done as a mother, friend, and role model. She gave the poem to her mother and, a few months later, offered it as a tribute when Mary and her husband were married. So many wedding guests asked for a copy that Mary included one in her thank-you notes. Then began the strange and heartwarming journey of Mary's poem to her mom. Friends passed it on to those they knew. A minister in her hometown couldn't recall who gave it to him, but he included the by-then "anonymously written" poem in his book about loving others. Another author picked it up from there for her compilation of heartfelt works, and Mary finally noticed her poem, now listed as "Author Unknown," in A Fourth Course of Chicken Soup for the Soul, which her husband and children gave her as a Mother's Day gift. With this new book, readers have the chance to experience When You Thought I Wasn't Looking in its entirety and from its creator. This is the special kind of book that reminds us that sometimes the little things we do "just because" mean more to someone than we can ever know. Those little things teach love, compassion, and understanding. In other words, they're priceless. This sweet gift book brings that lesson home to the heart.

Mothers and Daughters Wordsong

I never got tired of telling my mother how much I loved her. This book of poems attempts to show the intense love of a daughter for her mother. I hope to give the reader words he or she might feel belongs to them to describe their love for their own mother. The greatest aim of this book is as a memorial to a unique, wonderful woman.

My mother had moved to San Francisco in the 1950s when she was in her twenties. She wanted art, music, and theater. When these poems were written, I wasn't consciously trying to be a great poet. I just wanted to make my mother smile.

Dear Mother Andrews McMeel Publishing The love between a mother and daughter exists in a special place ...where "always" always lasts and "forever" never goes away. -- Laurel Atherton Every mother dreams of having a daughter to share her life with, and from the instant she first cradles her daughter in her arms, a mother knows that she has been given a precious gift. She hopes that she can be the kind of mother her daughter will look up to and come to with both her worries and her joys.
