El dolor crónico afecta al 30 por ciento de la población mundial. El doctor Goicoechea nos ofrece las herramientas para librarnos de él. El doctor Arturo Goicoechea es un reconocido neurólogo, pionero en España en la investigación de los llamados «síntomas sin explicación médica» y en neurobiología del dolor. El autor propone, de manera directa, divulgativa y esperanzadora, la desmitificación de creencias erróneas sobre la enfermedad como herramienta terapéutica esencial, apostando decididamente por el modelo pedagógico como instrumento para enfrentarnos a los síntomas sin patología orgánica, ofreciendo los conocimientos y las herramientas para aliviar el dolor de los pacientes en la batalla de la recuperación, y brindando, además, la información necesaria sobre el origen de las dolencias en términos neuronales, con la finalidad de desaprender conductas y reprogramar las respuestas del cerebro. Con la divulgación de estos conocimientos, la pedagogía del dolor pretende superar doctrinas y teorías que contribuyen a potenciar y cronificar el papel del dolor en nuestras vidas. Formación emocional en entornos educativos Farrar, Straus and Giroux El Libro Azul de los Cuentos de Hadas es una colección intemporal de cuentos clásicos que han entretenido a lectores de todas las edades durante más de un siglo. Organización familiar en la vida urbana Plataforma Cecilia Valdés is arguably the most important novel of 19th century Cuba.

Originally published in New York City in 1882, Cirilo Villaverde's novel has fascinated readers inside and outside Cuba since the late 19th century. In this new English translation, a vast landscape emerges of the moral, political, and sexual depravity caused by slavery and colonialism. Set in the Havana of the 1830s, the novel introduces us to Cecilia, a beautiful light-skinned mulatta, who is being pursued by the son of a Spanish slave trader, named Leonardo.

Unbeknownst to the two, they are the children of the same father. Eventually Cecilia gives in to Leonardo's advances; she becomes pregnant and gives birth to a baby girl. When Leonardo, who gets bored with Cecilia after a while, agrees to marry a white upper class woman, Cecilia vows revenge. A mulatto friend and suitor of hers kills Leonardo, and Cecilia is thrown into prison as an accessory to the crime. For the contemporary reader Helen Lane's masterful translation of Cecilia Valdés opens a new window into the intricate problems of race relations in Cuba and the Caribbean. There are the elite social circles of European and New World Whites, the rich culture of the free people of color, the class to which Cecilia herself belonged, and then the slaves, divided among themselves between those who were born in Africa and those who were born in the New World, and those who worked on the sugar plantation and those who worked in the households of the rich people in Havana. Cecilia Valdés thus presents a vast portrait of sexual, social, and racial oppression, and the lived experience of Spanish colonialism in Cuba. Tristes Tropiques Penguin "I have always had faith that the best writers will rise to the top, like cream, sooner or later, and will become exactly as well-known as they should be—their work talked about, quoted, taught, performed, filmed, set to music, anthologized. Perhaps, with the present collection, Lucia Berlin will begin to gain the attention she deserves." - Lydia Davis A MANUAL FOR CLEANING WOMEN compiles the best work of the legendary short-story writer Lucia Berlin. With the grit of Raymond Carver, the humor of Grace Paley, and a blend of wit and melancholy all her own, Berlin crafts miracles from the everyday, uncovering moments of grace in the Laundromats and halfway houses of the American Southwest, in the homes of the Bay Area upper class, among switchboard operators and struggling mothers, hitchhikers and bad Christians. Readers will revel in this remarkable collection from a master of the form and wonder how they'd ever overlooked her in the first place.

¿Qué es exactamente lo que los humanos siempre harán mejor que los robots? Hay algo que la inteligencia artificial no puede conseguir: la capacidad humana para formular nuevas preguntas y analizarlas con otro marco de referencia. Los marcos son modelos mentales del mundo que utilizamos para entender los problemas más difíciles y son la base de la creatividad, el pensamiento crítico y la innovación. Ahora que la investigación en la inteligencia artificial y el big data nos demuestra cuánto han mejorado en memoria y procesamiento de datos, nuestra capacidad de contextualizarlas se ha convertido en una función crucial.

 Originally published in 1984, this dystopian trilogy—"a pioneering feminist experiment"—is a testament to the power of language and women's collective action (Literary Hub). In 2205, the 19th Amendment has long been repealed and women are only valued for their utility. The Earth's economy depends on an insular group of linguists who "breed" women to be perfect interstellar translators until they are sent to the Barren House to await death. But instead, these women are slowly creating a language of their own to make resistance possible. Ignorant to this brewing revolution, Nazareth, a brilliant linguist, and Michaela, a servant, both seek emancipation in their own ways. But their personal rebellions risk exposing the secret language, and threaten the possibility of freedom for all. "This angry feminist text is also an exemplary experiment in speculative fiction, deftly and implacably pursuing both a scientific hypothesis and an ideological hypothesis through all their social, moral, and emotional implications." —Ursula K. Le Guin "A welcome reminder of the feminist legacies of science fiction. . . . Explores the power of speech, agency, and subversion in a work that is as gripping, troubling, and meaningful today as it has ever been." —Publishers Weekly (starred review) The Gardener and the Carpenter ITESO Una obra para hacer visible a la infancia y para aprender a observar, el primer escalón del acierto, y hacerlo con ternura. Nation VERGARA La complejidad de la vida actual, así como la heterogeneidad de las familias, entre cuyas características está la de ser encabezadas por uno o dos padres, que pueden ser del mismo sexo, o ser lideradas por los abuelos o algún otro familiar, implican una serie de problemáticas en las formas de relación y dinámicas de interacción de sus integrantes, que inciden en el desarrollo de la infancia media. Este libro presenta los resultados de una extensa investigación que identifica la manera en que se asumen las formas de organización familiar contemporánea, para así comprender las implicaciones que representan estas nuevas condiciones en la vida de los hijos y las hijas. Realizada por expertos en distintas disciplinas sociales, contó con el apoyo de familias diversas y de distintas configuraciones socioeconómicas y culturales. Dirigido a profesionales, profesores, investigadores y estudiantes vinculados a las ciencias sociales, este volumen tiene como principal objetivo mostrar evidencias del panorama actual familiar en el contexto urbano y sustentar la necesidad de un cambio de paradigmas en la concepción de la responsabilidad del desarrollo de la infancia media. En contra de los modelos actuales de crianza, ser padres no es una labor de carpintería, no es un trabajo que tenga como objetivo "tallar" a un niño para convertirlo en un modelo particular de adulto. Por el contrario, ser padres es como cuidar un jardín. La labor de los padres es la de procurar un medio fértil, estable y seguro que permita prosperar a muchas variedades de flores. Crear un ecosistema vigoroso y flexible que facilite que los propios niños desarrollen muchos, variados e impredecibles tipos de adultos futuros. Se trata también de favorecer una relación humana específica, un amor comprometido e incondicional, entre un progenitor concreto y un hijo concreto.

Un manual práctico y fascinante para que padres, abuelos y maestros descubran las pasiones y habilidades innatas de los más pequeños. Cada niño es especial y único. Pero ¿cómo identificamos los talentos específicos de nuestros hijos? ¿Qué podemos hacer para ayudarlos a expresar, cultivar y disfrutar de sus pasiones? En este manual, Francesca Valla, maestra y consejera, nos enseña que los talentos pueden surgir de innumerables formas diferentes, y cómo ayudar a nuestros hijos para que orienten su talento con facilidad y felicidad. ¿Cuáles son los pasos que debemos tomar para alentar a nuestros niños a experimentar y expresar libremente sus habilidades e inclinaciones? ¿Qué palabras, gestos y actitudes fomentan la autoconfianza y la espontaneidad? ¿Qué evitar para no sobrecargar a nuestro hijo o hija con nuestras propias expectativas o para proyectar una idea de éxito derivada de nuestras aspiraciones personales o profesionales? A través de historias, reflexiones e inspiraciones, exploraremos la empatía, el coraje, la escucha: un enfoque eficaz para cuidar a nuestro hijo, respetarlo y dejarlo libre para convertirse en él mismo. Porque la meta de nosotros, adultos, padres, maestros, abuelos, es que todos los pasos que tomemos junto con nuestros hijos puedan dar al mundo del futuro mujeres y hombres felices, capaces y conscientes de sus talentos.

This exciting book by three pioneers in the new field of cognitive science discusses important discoveries about how much babies and young children know and learn, and how much parents naturally teach them. It argues that evolution designed us both to teach and learn, and that the drive to learn is our most important instinct. It also reveals as fascinating insights about our adult capacities and how even young children -- as well as adults -- use some of the same methods that allow scientists to learn so much about the world. Filled with surprise at every turn, this vivid, lucid, and often funny book gives us a new view of the inner life of children and the mysteries of the mind.

La gran guía de la crianza

EDICIONES B

Brilliant and engagingly written, Why Nations Fail answers the question that has stumped the experts for centuries: Why are some nations rich and others poor, divided by wealth and poverty, health and sickness, food and famine? Is it culture, the weather, geography? Perhaps ignorance of what the right policies are? Simply, no. None of these factors is either definitive or destiny.

Otherwise, how to explain why Botswana has become one of the fastest growing countries in the world, while other African nations, such as Zimbabwe, the Congo, and Sierra Leone, are mired in poverty and violence? Daron Acemoglu and James Robinson conclusively show that it is man-made political and economic institutions that underlie economic success (or lack of it). Korea, to take just one of their fascinating examples, is a remarkably homogeneous nation, yet the people of North Korea are among the poorest on earth while their brothers and sisters in South Korea are among the richest. The south forged a society that created incentives, rewarded innovation, and allowed everyone to participate in economic opportunities. The economic success thus spurred was sustained because the government became accountable and responsive to citizens and the great mass of people. Sadly, the people of the north have endured decades of famine, political repression, and very different economic institutions—with no end in sight. The differences between the Koreas is due to the politics that created these completely different institutional trajectories. Based on fifteen years of original research Acemoglu and Robinson marshal extraordinary historical evidence from the Roman Empire, the Mayan city-states, medieval Venice, the Soviet Union, Latin America, England, Europe, the United States, and

Africa to build a new theory of political economy with great relevance for the big questions of today, including: - China has built an authoritarian growth machine. Will it continue to grow at such high speed and overwhelm the West? - Are America's best days behind it? Are we moving from a virtuous circle in which efforts by elites to aggrandize power are resisted to a vicious one that enriches and empowers a small minority? - What is the most effective way to help move billions of people from the rut of poverty to prosperity? More philanthropy from the wealthy nations of the West? Or learning the hard-won lessons of Acemoglu and Robinson's breakthrough ideas on the interplay between inclusive political and economic institutions? Why Nations Fail will change the way you look at—and understand—the world.
