Take a page from A Year of PR and highlight your own school district with a smart press release plan. Let the community know what your students are up to. By keeping people informed, you improve relations between schools and communities and keep residents invested in their district. Moreover, a good public relations strategy presents an opportunity to show stakeholders the positive impact that faculty, staff, administrators, board members, and most importantly, students make in our communities.

Elder Law: Practice, Policy, and Problems is designed with the teacher and learner in mind. It combines a client-focused approach with in-depth discussions of elder law related policy issues. Designed to be simultaneously practical and theoretical, it provides students with specific legal knowledge and a conceptual framework for understanding key issues facing older adults and the attorneys who represent them. The author's narrative frames a series of primary materials including cases, statutes, regulations, and sample documents, as well as excerpts from articles designed to stimulate student thinking and discussion. Problems and hypothetical exercises—many of which relate to client counseling—ask students to imagine themselves in the role of the elder law attorney, and to describe how they would handle various scenarios, such as a client meeting. In addition, questions in each section prompt students to critique key policies and thereby test their understanding of those policies. New to the Second Edition: Comprehensive updates that capture changes in law and policy, including major revisions to nursing home regulations, new developments in guardianship law, and an emerging line of cases on age discrimination in hiring. New coverage of: family caregiving and caregivers' rights "Gray divorce" and its implications for policy design and planning Supported decision-making Social service interventions that address elder abuse Professors and students will benefit from: Very clearly organized content A client-centered approach Integrated discussion of policy and current issues supported by relevant cases, statutes, regulations, sample documents, and commentaries. All relevant statutory material being within the casebook, meaning there is no need to require a separate statutory supplement Practice problems of varying difficulty that encourage students to apply what they are learning to realistic client-focused hypothetical scenarios Questions throughout the text that prompt critical thinking, and prepare students to engage in classroom discussion Exercises that can be used for either independent or in-class assignments

Confined Space Entry and Emergency Response Capstone 'Emergency Hacks - 'Every Second Counts! Every Push is Worth it!!' dwells on exactly what the title says. When a person gets cardiac arrest and collapses suddenly out of the blue, you get just about 3 minutes to either take the victim to the hospital or try revival outside the hospital wherever it happens. We are living in modern times, where modernity squeezes the time out of your hand. In any modern city, it is next to impossible to take such a victim to the hospital in those 3 minutes. Ambulances carrying critical patients and sirens shrieking at their peak and getting stuck in the quagmire of the endless traffic are a common sight in almost all cities. Leave alone taking the victim to the hospital in these three minutes, it wouldn't be a surprise if you get stuck up in the traffic for more than 3 minutes. By the time you reach the hospital, the victim would have been dead. He could be anyone in your neighborhood, could be your friend, or God-forbid your own family member. Would you want this to happen to you? No? Then, this book is certainly for you. If you are not able to take the victim to the hospital in those 3 critical minutes, those 180 seconds may sound like the death knell for the victim. Don't let this happen. Use every second of these 180 seconds to revive the victim with cardiopulmonary resuscitation [CPR]. Hence every second counts! Don't lose time - every second is precious. It is a window of opportunity for you to be a Good Samaritan, a life saviour. Be the 'pranadatha'!
