Thomas Chalmers was a Scottish Presbyterian minister who served most of his life at St. John's parish in Glasgow—a congregation that was both the largest and the poorest congregation in the city. Known for his extensive charitable work in caring for the poor and downtrodden, Chalmers was also an astute theologian. One of his most notable works is The Expulsive Power of a New Affection, in which Chalmers inspires his readers to remove the tangles of sin through the expulsive power of a new affection—desiring God. As a result of the fall, human feelings of love are often misplaced on the creation rather than the Creator. This classic work of the faith reorients our affections toward him.

Flying is all I ever dreamt of doing. From my earliest memories, flying aerobatics with my grandfather to years spent teaching people to take to the skies, I've had a lifelong fascination with flight. This obsession led my life on many adventures. From freezing motorcycle tours of Alaska, to crossing mountain tops in Czech Republic dangling from the lines of a paraglider, to founding several companies including Aviator Paramotor where I've spent the better part of the past decade helping people overcome their fears through flight. This book's focus is on accepting life as an adventure to be enjoyed and to choose to rise above your natural inclination to see yourself and your circumstances as a victim. Through many injuries, failures, and massive pain, I've been blessed to continue to grow ever forward and it is my honor to share some of my story with you. It is my hope that after sharing in my experience, you will see a new way forward. A new way to say "Farewell to Normal".

The Budo Karate of Mas Oyama Crossway

'This book reminded me of The Sopranos' Sydney Morning Herald Abe Saffron was Australia's most notorious underworld figure, for decades known as 'Mr Sin' and the 'King of King's Cross'. His wife called him something different: 'Gentle Satan'. This fascinating memoir by his son Alan tells us why, for the first time revealing the truth about the man and his crimes - both professional and personal. Growing up, Alan counted the money from Abe's brothels and hotels, and frequented his illegal bars and strip clubs, including the famous Les Girls, The Roosevelt and the Pink Pussycat. He describes Abe's corrupt deals with premiers, police commissioners and a prime minister - many of whom he met - as well as the real estate deals that 'legitimised' Abe's fortune. But Alan's most compelling stories are about his own highly volatile relationship with his authoritarian father, and his mother's struggle to deal with Abe's affairs, including the attention he gave to his 'second family', up till his death and beyond. An incredible story of family loyalties, betrayals, illegitimate siblings and contested inheritance, all in the powerful grip of a flawed millionaire patriarch.
