This novel dramatizes an incident that took place in a California school in 1969. A teacher creates an experimental movement in his class to help students understand how people could have followed Hitler. The results are astounding. The highly disciplined group, modeled on the principles of the Hitler Youth, has its own salute, chants, and special ways of acting as a unit and sweeps beyond the class and throughout the school, evolving into a society willing to give up freedom for regimentation and blind obedience to their leader. All will learn a lesson that will never be forgotten.

The time has come for a prophet like me to lift up the skirt of this secret sin that men struggle with, with a three-fold purpose:

1. To let other addicts know that they are not alone. 2. To shine the light on a church culture that does not allow open confession to allow healing for such sins. 3. To encourage the church to stop throwing stones at their wounded. WARNING

This book exposes the life of a thirty-year sex addict. Portions of this are not suitable for young audiences. If you are under the age of eighteen, please read no further. It contains graphic sexual content including language, scenarios, and outcomes. Henry L. Woodward is a devoted Sailer and a US Navy veteran who served as a Combat Medical Corpsman in Vietnam. At the end of his service, he took his discharge in Hawaii and stayed in Honolulu and began a new life. Within less than two years, he graduated as a paramedic from the State of Hawaii Paramedic School and worked "on the road" on all the islands for over a year. This experience ended when he was asked to and accepted the position of ambulance services inspection officer for the State of Hawaii, Department of Health, Emergency Medical Services System Division. In that capacity, he was responsible for inspecting all ambulances on the seven islands of the state which had ambulances and enforcing compliance with the state ambulance service regulations. Because of his successes in regulation enforcement, he was then offered and again accepted the position of program officer for all Emergency Medical Services for the entire state of Hawaii. In this capacity, he was responsible for all 911 ambulances and ambulance services, all the paramedics and all the EMTs for the state. Within two years of becoming a paramedic, he had advanced from being a paramedic to running the whole program for Emergency Medical Services for the entire state of Hawaii. Following these two successes, he left the Department of Health and became an international paramedic, traveling to forty-five countries by working wherever he went to earn money for the next stop. During this time, from 1976 through 1994, he maintained a journal completing nineteen handwritten volumes. It is from these incredible experiences that the beginning inspirations for Life's Unknown Poems were first realized. He ultimately returned to his hometown of Vancouver, Washington, where he worked his final year as a paramedic. The next challenge was to finish his bachelor's degree at Washington State University for which he paid by learning the art of "Yard Sailing" from a lifelong friend named Mr. Dan Kelly. It is from his three years of doing Yard and Swap Meet sales in order to pay for his school fees that this book, Yare Sale Today, has its origins. After completing his bachelor's degree and the writing of Yard Sale Today, Mr. Woodward continued to write and has just completed his second book, Life's Unknown Poems. This book was inspired by his travels through forty-five countries as mentioned above and will be out of editing and available for sales in the Spring of 2021. His third book, Code Three—Life of a Paramedic, is now being written. It is a collection of the ambulance calls which continued to haunt Mr. Woodward since they were first experienced during his years as a paramedic. All the deaths, all the tragedies are written as they happened, and as Mr. Woodward told me, "It was time to get rid of them. I didn't want to continue remembering them all and go on to die so sad. I had to do something, so I wrote them out to get them out." For now, Mr. Woodward hopes you enjoy Yard Sale Today in either the print or online versions.

'Moderation Is Key' is like no other book before it in this area. It is simple and gives a lot of insights, made available in one place. It is a very comprehensive manual.' I am a passionate advocate of healthy living. I embarked on this lifestyle in late 1990, with a change in my eating habits and sedentary lifestyle. This caused me to drop 6-8 dress sizes. By God's Grace, I have successfully maintained this weight loss for nearly three decades, a feat achieved by eating moderate amounts of healthy foods, exercising, and dependence on God's Word. People who are in the know about my success with weight loss and healthy living often approach me for tips, and those among them who heed my counsel enjoy weight loss/maintenance success. This qualifies me to write authoritatively, and I do so with a fresh thought out book.

Endorsement: It is my pleasure to endorse this book "Moderation Is Key". I have had the joy of knowing Owen and her heart for well being. I believe Owen has been given the mandate to equip and to help everyone in this day of busy lifestyles to be educated in the realm of being healthy. Through experience Owen has learned these valuable tools, to pass on. I for one will look forward to putting into practice her helpful insights. -Wendy J Preston, Pastor, Faith Alive Church, Aylesbury Buckinghamshire. U.K.

About the Author:
Oghomwen (Owen) Jones has a bachelor's degree in Accounting and Finance. She got married soon after her university education and was a housewife for over 25 years. Owen lost her husband in 2017.

Following her husband's death, she found herself in a very dark place, a situation she navigated by holding on tenaciously to her faith in God. Owen volunteered at the Alvin Ailey School in the late 1990s and an orphanage in Nigeria between 2007-2009. She currently spearheads her church's health initiative on cancer prevention measures. She finds this fulfilling as it gives her a sense of purpose in life.

"An interesting literary journey back in time, capturing — within the breathtaking stories — the joys and sorrows, thrills and disappointments of growing up in rural Punjab." "Bhupendra's stories bring out the simplicity, sensibilities, vibrancy, languor, humour and irony in lives from the Punjab countryside."

"Countryside Tales is the closest you can get to the Malgudi Days of Punjab." "Bhupendra's powerful narratives transport the readers back in time to that place and situation, where they become a part of the action and emotion. One can visualise the scenes so clearly that the feeling is of actually being present there." "Great memories narrated with utter simplicity.

Bhupendra really has an amazing talent for bringing alive the people he writes about — and that too with crystal clear precision." "Bhupendra Dogra exhibits a great skill of transmuting personal memories into an impersonal and universal art. While reading the stories, I felt like a toddler once again in the company of my young and muscular dad, working in the fields in the village." "Bhupendra's stories capture the mood and aura of a bygone era perfectly. They remind me of R.K. Narayan's short stories especially Swami & his Friends!"

"Bhupendra is an amazingly gifted writer... a master story teller who is unbeatable in narrating and converting simple incidents into interesting stories." "A raconteur par excellence." "Bhupendra's relationship with his father must have been very very special. His abiding love for his father peeps through every word he writes about him."

"Intensely engaging, some of the best short stories that I have ever read in my life."

"Bhupendra Dogra's stories are fine examples of creating interesting artistic constructs out of some banal or commonplace experiences, interspersed with a subtle sense of humour and a mild critique of typical middle class Hindu family ethos and ethics."

Does the mind emerge from matter? Does an absolute reality exist, independent of any conscious individual? If not, what makes the reality experienced by one individual slightly different from that experienced by the others? As Ary carries out doctoral and post-doctoral research in the sciences and travels back and forth between Calcutta and California for over half a decade, he seeks answers to these questions. In the process, he goes through various experiences: confusion regarding his career path, friendship, love, loneliness, and spiritual bliss. This philosophical novel, which chronicles all these experiences in Ary's life, is unique in the way it combines science with autobiographical fiction to present various original theories on the mind and consciousness.

'...times have not changed...', 'in fact it has quickened' and '...there is nothing new under the Sun...' except for the arrival of the Age of the Creature of Features. And the Orders of the First Men are about to rise as the Age of the Republics that sprung out from the Age of the Kings voyages into its final Ocean of Influence. The time has come again for kingdoms to be crafted, alliances to be forged and ancient orders to be resuscitated in the Abode of Men. Cast onto the minds is a convoluted doctrine that has ensnared the Promise of the Nations and the Idea of Sovereignty into a faithless discourse. A certain tongue of a Creature has been spoken and a certain measure of a Yeast has been dropped and this doctrine is canonised into a dogma. Why has this doctrine become infallible when in truth, there is another Doctrine of Hope operating in the spirit of inspiring unity, where it is remarkably possible and feasible to build a kingdom or a nation no matter how small it is. Right of the Birth is the journey where you will take to understand the Doctrine of Hope, which will reveal to you the Kingdom or Nation you possess in the Womb of Life. It is written so that you must not become the Man of Doubt but the Man of Faith—that you must wrestle for your destiny and become the True Heirs of all your rightful inheritances.
