" ... Comping for an imaginary soloist, as is done on the Aebersold play-a-long recordings, can be a tricky business. It is ... easy for the comping to turn into a piano chord solo which is far too busy and cluttered up rhythmically or melodically. The soloist is left with no space in which to play. The goal [is] to supply the harmony and play something that feels good so that any soloist will be comfortable playing with the prerecorded rhythm accompaniment. The problem is that the element of interaction is removed. Since there is no soloist playing as the track is recorded, there is no possibility of reacting to rhythmic or harmonic elements that [one] might employ. [Dan Haerle's] approach is to comp as though [he] were an arranger creating a sax or trombone background behind a solo in a jazz band chart ... A good background would generally have some melodic interest (though restrained) and would sound the harmony to support the solo. Also, there would be enough rhythmic life in it to inject some energy into the music and hopefully stimulate the soloist ..."--Dan Haerle.
