Richard J. Spota has had a long and illustrious career. Within these pages, we get a glimpse into his long and remarkable life of service as a detective, lieutenant, and chief of police. Some of the highlights include the time he was a detective working on organized crime who, after making several felony arrests, was assigned to testify before a grand jury. After facing two failed murder attempts, he continued to testify before the grand jury under protective custody. There is the case of the Connecticut Bank Robbery gang, where he worked alongside a lieutenant surveilling the bank being cased by the gang. Spota drove the car which chased the robbers at high speed. After a shoot out, the three perpetrators were arrested and brought into custody. Or the case where former Westchester County District Attorney Carl Vergari said, "This is believed to be the first time a person has been indicted for homicide for the death of a person he sold drugs to." There's the case of the Dating Game Serial Killer, who was eventually brought to justice three decades later, on December 14, 2012. And the Sing Sing Escape case where, after a lot of work and dedication put into action by Spota, the convicts were apprehended and brought into custody. For his valiant efforts, Spota received a very sincere written commendation from Governor Mario M. Cuomo.

Lizzy Dawson, a tall, dark and beautiful woman with chestnut hair and hazel eyes, might, at first glance, seem like a typical Greenwich housewife. In a place like Greenwich, Connecticut, nothing is typical or ordinary, and Lizzy is no exception to that rule. Through an innocent enough hobby of internet blogging, she managed to stumble onto a story, a story about murder among the rich and powerful. This community of the nation's leading finance and banking magnates has its share of back alley secrets and back room deals. But this story was one which reached to the top levels of the elite classes and to the bedrooms of multimillion dollar mansions. Lizzy dug deep into the boardrooms and boudoirs to find out the truth about the murder of William Pierce, a man caught up in the glamour, secrets, and sex of this tiny town. Little did she know that this story would lead to a criminal investigation and change her life forever.

In Cultural Analysis, the fourth collection of his essays posthumously published by Transaction, Wildavsky argues that American politics, public law, and public administration are the contested terrain of rival, inescapable political cultures. Analysts of American politics distinguish liberals from conservatives and Democrats from Republicans, but do not explain how these categories of political allegiance develop, maintain themselves, or change. Wildavsky offers a cultural-functional explanation for ideological and partisan coherence and realignment. Wildavsky also felt that these dualisms did not adequately capture the ideological and partisan variation he observed on the political landscape. Like others, he detected another recurring strain of political allegiance: that of classical liberalism or libertarianism. People of this political stripe valued freedom more than equality (the primary political value of contemporary liberals), and also more than order, the primary political value of conservatives.

Brass Buttons, Blue Coats "Remembering All Who Served 1871 to 1971" By: George E. Rutledge As a young police sergeant in 1976, George E. Rutledge met a veteran who told him, "I served 35 years in our police department and the day I retired was the very last time I ever heard from anyone in the police department. And the same thing will happen to you." Rutledge has dedicated his life to making sure all who served in the Yonkers Police Department are remembered and honored. Brass Buttons - Blue Coats is a thorough documentation of all individuals who have served from the beginning of the Yonkers Police Department to 1971. Personal profiles and photographs create a lasting memorial of service. In 1866, still suffering from the turmoil of the Civil War, the town of Yonkers voted to hire fourteen Metropolitan Policemen from New York, creating the first Yonkers police force. From this humble beginning, the Yonkers police force has grown to over 600 dedicated men and women. From foot patrols to squad cars, notebooks to computers, the Yonkers police force has grown and adapted with the times. But the purpose has never wavered: to Serve and Protect. Civil War veterans, Vietnam veterans, rescue workers after 9/11, and Special Olympic volunteers - the Yonkers force is filled with people who have dedicated their lives to their country and their community. Rich with details of service and crimes over 100 years, Brass Buttons - Blue Coats is both a fitting tribute to brave men and women as well as a fascinating look at the history of Yonkers and the history of crime.

Annual Report of the New York State Civil Service Commission Xlibris Corporation

On May 26, 1999, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights conducted a hearing in New York City to examine current police practices & their impact on civil rights in the community at large. The Commission had a strong interest in studying the methods used by the city to balance crime fighting with the exercise of appropriate restraint, particularly following the highly publicized tragedies involving Abner Louima & Amadou Diallo. This report is intended to offer insights into some of the tensions that exist between the New York Police Dept. & the communities that it serves. Chapters:

recruitment, selection, & training; police-community relations; & civilian complaints.

"...Score #1 on the Test! Just Like I Did!" This book is subtitled "A Comprehensive Review of the New York States First-Line Correctional Supervisors Test" which is the title of the civil service test for the promotion of Sergeant in most NYS County Correctional Facilities. This book contains an outline of the above entitled exam - and is a comprehensive review of New York State's Minimum Standards. If you are looking for an outline for the above entitled exam and a review of New York State's Minimum Standards - Then this book is for you. Welcome to the Ultimate Correctional Sergeants Exam Guide a comprehensive review for the exam entitled "New York State's First-Line Correctional Supervisors Test." You have bought the most advanced book ever published for this promotional exam. The purpose of this book is to provide the reader with an outline of the above entitled exam as well as a powerful and comprehensive system for learning the New York State Commission of Corrections Minimum Standards. Combining the information from the test guide provided by the New York State Department of Civil Service, this guide will prove invaluable for anyone studying for the above entitled exam. This book has been carefully designed to reinforce your understanding of the laws behind the New York State Commission of Corrections Minimum Standards so that you are better equipped to take the promotional exam. This book will also help you to perform your job to the best of your ability. Let's face it - whether you like it or not, the New York State Commission of Corrections Minimum Standards are the laws of the State of New York. If you do not know these rules and guidelines, you may be in violation of the law- potentially causing yourself unnecessary liability. As a corrections professional, you owe it to yourself to know these rules inside and out. The reason that I sat down and compiled this information is because while I was studying the New York State Commission of Corrections Minimum Standards, I had a hard time reading through the boring page after page of legal terminology. So as a study guide for myself, I decided to break down the information into smaller pieces so that I could better understand the information. The end result is this study guide! Besides being a terrific study guide for the above entitled promotional exam, this book is also an excellent guide for any person seeking a better understanding of the complex laws that govern most county correctional facilities in New York State. I hope that this book will give you the edge that you need in order to score those few extra points that could make a difference for you in your career. My motto is "Score Higher-Get Hired!" Best of luck, Eric L. Morin -Corrections Officer - Rensselaer County, NY "Score #1 on the Test! - I did- You Can Too!"
