Intl Food Policy Res Inst Governance Institutes Network International (GINI) entered into agreement as a collaborating institution with the International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI) to conduct property tax policy research to support the 2011 Framework for Economic Growth developed by the Planning Commission of Pakistan at that time. Over the course of this 12-month project, spanning between 1st July 2012 and 30th June 2013, GINI conducted empirical taxpolicy research on property taxation primarily focused on Tehsil Shakargarh, District Narowal of Punjab Province. The methodology for this research employed, firstly, a comprehensive review of literature regarding property taxes in Pakistan. The literature review draws upon numerous sources concerning both taxes in Pakistan and international best practice. It includes the relevant work of academia, international development organizations, regional development organizations, and federal and provincial government departments. Tribe, Land and Religion in the Punjab Anthem Press

This book focuses on the retrogressive agrarian interventions by the Pakistani military in rural Punjab and explores the social resentment and resistance it triggered, potentially undermining the consensus on a security state in Pakistan. Set against the overbearing and socially unjust role of the military in Pakistan's economy, this book documents a breakdown in the accepted function of the military beyond its constitutionally mandated role of defence. Accompanying earlier work on military involvement in industry, commerce, finance and real estate, the authors' research contributes to a wider understanding of military intervention, revealing its hand in various sectors of the economy and, consequently, its gains in power and economic autonomy.

Franklin Classics Trade Press Agriculture plays a pivotal role in the economy and development of Pakistan providing food to consumers, raw materials to industries, and a market for industrial goods. Unfortunately, agricultural production is stagnant due to several barriers including a fixed cropping pattern, reliance on a few major crops, a narrow genetic pool, poor seed quality, and a changing climate. In addition, the high cost of production, weak phytosanitary compliance mechanisms, and a lack of cold chain facilities makes Pakistan agriculturally uncompetitive in export markets. Despite all these issues, agriculture is the primary industry in Pakistan and small farmers continue to dominate the business. Small farmers grow crops for subsistence under a fixed cropping pattern and a holistic approach is required to develop agriculture to improve the livelihoods of the rural populace. This book presents an exhaustive look at agriculture in Pakistan. Chapters provide critical analyses of present trends, inadequacies in agriculture, strategic planning, improvement programs and policies while keeping in view the natural resources, plant- and animal-related agricultural production technologies, input supplies, population planning, migration and poverty, and balanced policies on finance, credit, marketing, and trade. Contemporary thinking favours local participation and local stake-holding under a decentralized, democratic framework as the just and efficient solution to contemporary South Asian environmental dilemmas and crises. In a series of case studies and more extensive audits, a group of mainly Nordic and American authors seek to substantiate, qualify or criticize this formula.

Covering both urban and rural environments, the hills and the plains, the book provides insights into the actual management and mismanagement of resources in India and Pakistan. Contents Income Distribution and Environmental Degradation; The State and Local Management in Colonial Irrigation; Oral Histories of Environmental Change in Rajasthan; The Van Gujjars and the Rajaji National Park; Implementing International Regimes in India; Forest Contractors as Intermediaries in Pakistan's Forestry; Tragedy of Collective Action among farmers in South India; International production of Pesticides; Voluntary Organisations in Environmental Service Provision; The Use of Metaphor in Himalayan Resource Management. revenue report Punjab Revenue Officers Assosiation

The proclamation of the annexation of Punjab was made by the British Government on 30th March, 1849 and the Government of the Province was put under the Board of Administration. This Board, too, was abolished in th February 1853 and its powers were Vested in the Chief Commissioner who controlled the administration of the Provinces with the help of Judicial Commissioner and the Financial Commissioner. Matters relating to land-revenue settlements were regulated in accordance with Mr Thamason s Directions initially which were put in the form of a handbook by Mr Robert Cust for the first time and later on were revised by Mr D C Barkley. The Present Manual, an independent work, was issued, after the examination by the Financial Commissioner and with the approval of the Government of the Punjab, on the said manuals becoming obsolete with a view to guiding Settlement Officers in the Province concerning assessments and the preparation of the record of rights. The object of this Manual is not only to describe the present policy and procedure in the matter of land-revenue settlements but also to trace the growth of that policy and procedure from annexation to the present time. The Manual is divided into three Books- Book I deals with Historical facts, Book II delineates the Record of Rights and Book III relates to the Assessment. This work is comprehensive in its materials and contains sixteen Appendices. The Manual will certainly serve as source material to future framers of Settlement policies. Contents Chapter 1:

Introductory; Chapter 2: The Making of the Panjab; Chapter 3: Development of Settlement Policy in the North-Western Provinces Down to the Period of the Annexation of the Panjab; Chapter 4: The Sikh Revenue System; Chapter 5: Summary Settlements; Chapter 6: Development of Settlement Policy in the Panjab, 1846-1897; Chapter 7: Cesses; Chapter 8: Of Tenures and the Rights of Landowners; Chapter 9: On the Rights of Tenants; Chapter 10: Preliminary Measures in Connection with a Settlement; Chapter 11: The Settlement Officer and His Establishment and the Control Exercised by the Settlement Commissioner; Chapter 12: Survey; Chapter 13: Classes of Land and Soils; Chapter 14: The Record of Rights; Chapter 15: Preparation for Assessment; Chapter 16: Assessment Circles and Circle Rates; Chapter 17: Assessment Statistics; Chapter 18: The Standard of Assessment Net Assets and Rents; Chapter 19: The Half-Net Assets Estimated Based on Batai and Zabti Rents; Chapter 20: The Half-Net Assets Estimate Based on Fixed Cash and Grain Rents; Chapter 21: Miscellaneous Sources of Income

Connected with Land; Chapter 22: Reasons for Deviating from the Half-Net Assets Estimate in Assessment; Chapter 23: General Considerations Affecting the Amount of the Assessment; Chapter 24: Assessment Guides Other than the Half-Net Assets Estimate; Chapter 25: Inspection of Estates for Assessment; Chapter 26: Assessment of Particular Classes of Land; Chapter 27: Fluctuating Assessments; Chapter 28: Term of Settlement Temporary and Permanent Settlements Redemption of the Land Revenue; Chapter 29: Progressive Assessments and Protective Leases; Chapter 30: Assessment Reports; Chapter 31: Distribution of Revenue Over Estates and Announcement of New Jamas; Chapter 32: Distribution of the Revenue Over Holdings; Chapter 33: Closing Operations; Chapter 34: Miscellaneous.
Report on the Land Revenue Settlement of the Siba Jagir in the Kangra District of the Punjab, 1881-82 CRC Press
This book examines economic reform in the Punjab in the period 1900-47 in an attempt to historicise theories of institutional change and community development. It advances the economic history of the region by analysing microeconomic reform in the province. A close examination of programmes of rural reconstruction in colonial Punjab reveals stark parallels with more contemporary prescriptions of development economics. Simultaneously, a study of the trajectory of legislative change sheds light on the institutional legacies of colonial rule. It engages deeply with the theoretical scholarship on development and rural uplift that emerges in this period and develops an intellectual genealogy that links colonialism to development studies. It questions the continued valorisation of the 'community' despite a lack of supportive evidence and argues that one reason for the continued popularity of ideas of community development and institutional malaise is that both absolve the status quo from blame.
