The essays gathered in this volume explore church discipline and the Reformed consistory across Europe from the mid-sixteenth through the late eighteenth centuries. They offer imaginative, often unanticipated perspectives on the nature of censure and excommunication. Les articles réunis dans ce volume analysent disciplines ecclésiastiques et consistoires réformés dans toute l'Europe depuis le milieu du XVIe siècle jusqu'à à la fin du XVIIIe siècle. Ils offrent des perspectives novatrices et souvent imprévues sur la nature de la censure et de l'excommunication. Dictionnaire Critique Et Documentaire Des Peintres, Sculpteurs, Dessinateurs & Graveurs de Tous Les Temps Et de Tous Les Pays: A.C New-York : G.P. Philes This 1989 analysis of the urban trades of eighteenth-century France lays the foundations for studies of the workshop economy in modern European history. Catalogue of Printed Books Manchester University Press

The erosion of biodiversity is currently highly publicized. Militant movements accuse humans of destroying nature and being responsible for a sixth mass extinction. However, this anxiety-provoking message is sometimes based on misconceptions, false or partisan ideas, and media relays that favor and amplify alarmist information. If the situation of certain populations is worrying, it is not a general phenomenon because others are expanding. Rather than holding a globalizing discourse, it is necessary to recontextualize and relativize the debate to better define the necessary actions. Biodiversity Erosion analyzes numerous scientific publications, as well as alarming discussions, emphasizing the multiple biases present in the way information is presented. This book questions the relevance of the notion of species and the desire to compile an inventory of all living things. It argues for a less Manichean approach to our relationship with nature. Real Algebraic Geometry and Ordered Structures Penguin
