Naked Filmmaking Hyperion

Lloyd Kaufman, the writer/producer/director of such cult-classic films as The Toxic Avenger, Class of Nuke 'Em High, and Tromeo and Juliet, offers a guide to movie-making unlike any other available anywhere. In 25 years, Kaufman, along with partner Michael Herz, has built Troma Studios up from a company struggling to find its voice in a field crowded with competitors to its current--and legendary--status as a lone survivor, a bastion of true cinematic independence, and the world's greatest collection of camp on film. As entertaining and funny as it is informative and insightful, Make Your Own Damn Movie! places Kaufman's radically low-budget, independent-studio style of filmmaking directly in the reader's hands. Thus we learn how to: develop and write a knock-out screenplay; raise funding; find locations and cast actors; hire a crew; obtain equipment, permits, and music rights (all for little or no money); make incredible special effects for $0.79 each; charm, schmooze, and network while on the film-festival circuit; and, finally, make a bad actor act so bad it's actually good. From scriptwriting and directing to financing and marketing, this book is brimming with utterly off-the-wall, decidedly maverick, yet consistently proven advice on how to fully develop one's idea for an independent film.

Make Your Own Hollywood Movie The Ilex Press Ltd
 HOLLYWOOD WANTS YOU! Wanted: Scriptwriters, Producers, and Directors. Hollywood's Biggest Secret: Practically anyone with a little ambition can become a scriptwriter, producer, and director! The minimum requirement: An "idea" for a movie. Discover the mysteries of turning your idea into a feature film, and becoming a scriptwriter, producer, and/or director. Contrary to popular belief, this does not require spending thousands of dollars at a 4-year film school. This is too costly, time consuming, and there are no jobs anywhere that require a film school degree. In addition, completing a cheaper and shorter film school course will not get you any closer to making a movie and getting it in theaters. Film schools and courses mislead by teaching students the techniques that "veteran" filmmakers use. In essence, students waste time and money learning how to make blockbuster movies when their first feature film will be nowhere near that level of filmmaking. These institutions never tell you the rules to making your first feature film are "different" than the rules veteran filmmakers use to make big budget movies. FINALLY, you can get step-by-step instructions, reinforced by a series of easy to follow flow charts, to develop your idea into a story, get it financed, produced, turned into your first feature film, and distributed to theaters. Once this happens, Hollywood will come knocking on your door with bigger movie projects backed by major studio financing! Why spend thousands of dollars at a 4-year film school for a degree that is worthless in Hollywood? Why spend hundreds more completing a course that purposely leaves out pieces of the puzzle and will get you nowhere? Make a one-time investment of $29.95 and learn all you need to know (reinforced with easy to follow step-by-step flow charts that will keep you on track) to make your first feature film and get it into movie theaters. And Hollywood will come to you!

The Declaration of Independent Filmmaking
Learnaboutfilm Ltd

Award-winning filmmaker Mike Carroll guides you through his proven step-by-step process of how to single-handedly make a feature-length film without going bankrupt in the process. Mike has single-handedly made three features as writer-producer-director-cinematographer-sound recordist-editor, all of which have played in film festivals on the big screen. "This is not so much a How-To book for making movies, because there are plenty of those out there-almost all of which seem to say the same thing. This is a How-I-Do book, how I make a film-from concept to production to editing to how I design the poster for screenings-because I think my method is quite a bit different from most other filmmakers. And a heck of a lot less expensive!"In this book Mike walks you through his process for writing a script for a film that will essentially require no money to make it, then on to his unique style of casting, choosing the right camera and getting locations. He also discusses how to shoot a film using only the light that is there, as well as how to light a location at night so that it doesn't look like it is artificially lit at all. His method of directing actors to get great performances, the kind of microphones to use to record perfect dialogue audio, and how to start editing it all together. Then what he's learned through screenings, both good and bad, at film festivals & selling his films to the World. You've read all the screenwriting books. Attended the writer's workshops. You've got that great, perfectly-formatted script for your Sundance debut film. Only one problem: nobody will read it. Thousands of scripts arrive in Hollywood every week - never to be heard from again. Stop banging your head against the wall. Make Your Movie Yourself. Illustrated with 150 photos - behind-the-scenes and frame blowups from the films themselves. Also including script extracts. Mike's films "Dog Soldiers," "Year" and "Nightbeats" are all available on DVD and as digital downloads from Amazon and make perfect filmmaking companions to this book. Each DVD includes in-depth audio commentaries and "Year" and "Nightbeats" also include making-of documentaries and detailed alternative examples of how sequences were edited. Create Your Own Movie Or TV Show Capstone

An estimated 50,000 screenplays are registered with the Writers Guild America every year. When someone goes to the trouble and expense of protecting their work with WGA registration, that's an indication of serious intent; these folks want to see their script produced. If you're one of those screenwriters or filmmakers with the dream of seeing your story produced and projected on movie screens around the world, you know that having a great script isn't really enough. You may even have trouble getting anyone in "the industry" to simply read and consider your screenplay for production. That's the norm in today's movie-making pipeline: it's essentially a closed shop unless you have successful (profitable to financiers) films in your credit history. The only way around this Catch-22 is to produce your own film from material you truly believe in. But the stumbling block faced by everyone with a great script in their hands is that it takes money to independently produce a film of any quality...lots of money. FINDING THAT MONEY SO YOU CAN MAKE YOUR FILM IS WHAT THIS BOOK IS ALL ABOUT. Raising the money you need to make your movie is no longer the impossible task it once was. You only need to find those individuals with money they're willing to risk, and then convince them that your film has a reasonable chance of returning their investment plus some net profit attached. Does that sound impossible? Well, it's not. Mark Stouffer has raised millions of dollars from private individuals for his movies, and he's done it repeatedly. Now, for the first time, he shows you exactly how you can raise the money you need to make your films. All you have to do is pay attention and carefully follow the 7 Steps to Raising Money for Your Movie in this book. Nobody said that making a movie-or raising the money to finance your filmmaking venture-was easy. But it can be done...and you can do it exactly the way the author has done it. More than once, Stouffer started from absolute Ground Zero with nothing more than a telephone and blank paper on his desk. He's gone from "idea" to . . . to script . . . to business plan . . . to pitch . . . to production financing . . . to final cut . . . to distribution deal . . . to the red carpet. Asking others for money so that you can make your movie may sound like an impossible challenge. But if you use the tactics, strategies, and principles in this book, you will be an undeniable force. You will raise the money you need, and you will make your movie!

The future of filmmaking is not Hollywood. It is the thousands of independent filmmakers empowered by the digital revolution. Filmmaking Stuff shows filmmakers how to write the script, use crowdfunding to raise the money, then make the journey from screenplay to screen, distribute the movie, and build an audience eager to see their next movie. Who should BUY this filmmaking book? * Grab your copy of filmmaking stuff if you are sick of waiting for someone else to discover your talent! * Grab this filmmaking book if you are ready to take action and make your movie now! * Grab this filmmaking book if you want to understand how to leverage crowdfunding to raise money and find an audience! * Grab this filmmaking book if you want to find out about new methods in marketing and film distribution! * Grab this filmmaking book if you are ready to become a modern moviemaker! "If you want to make movies, now is the time to take action! This book is a must read for serious, independent filmmakers!"

A Filmmaking Mindset: The New Path of Today's Filmmaker Taylor & Francis

This book will teach you how to make a movie that won't break your bank account. Not only will it teach you how to make a movie for little or no money, but will teach you to potentially make a "box office hit" that won't require your first born, and two kidneys to do so. This book will take you through the whole process of filmmaking from Pre-Production, Production, and Post-Production. You'll learn all the key elements in which are forgotten that always cost more money in the long run than originally planned. If you are a first time filmmaker, seasoned professional, or just someone with a dream to make a movie one day, then this book will change your life.
