Après la mort de son père, Gaëlle Moreau décide de lui écrire pour lui rendre compte de sa vie et de ses sentiments. Commence ainsi la rédaction de son journal intime. Elle aime voir le monde et accomplit ses rêves : l'Himalaya, le Népal, l'Islande, le Maroc... Nous la suivons dans tous ses périples, où elle déploie une sensibilité singulière ; « Je vois les petites choses de la vie que personne ne remarque », confie-t-elle, avec raison. Mais son don d'observation s'applique aussi en France, dans sa vie quotidienne. À travers les pages, elle entraîne son lecteur, entre le rire et les larmes, le fait de grandir, d'aimer, de souffrir, de se transformer petit à petit, sous les yeux de son père défunt. Ses convictions écologiques, ses amis, ses découragements et ses enthousiasmes, sa découverte de l'amour et de son homosexualité, tout est dit avec pudeur et sensibilité. Et nous lisons la vie de cette jeune femme touchante et parfois si seule avec une attention particulière. En se confiant, c'est souvent de nous qu'elle parle : nous retrouvons nos propres doutes, nos élans, toutes les petites choses qui construisent un destin.

Masters Theses in the Pure and Applied Sciences was first conceived, published, Slld disseminated by the Center for Information and Numerical Data Analysis and Synthesis (CINDAS) * at Purdue University in 1957, starting its coverage of theses with the academic year 1955. Beginning with Volume 13, the printing and dissemination phases of the activity were transferred to University Microfilms/Xerox of Ann Arbor, Michigan, with the thought that such an arrangement would be more beneficial to the academic and general scientific and technical community. After five years of this joint undertaking we had concluded that it was in the interest of all con cerned if the printing and distribution of the volumes were handled by an interna and broader dissemination. tional publishing house to assure improved service Hence, starting with Volume 18, Masters Theses in the Pure and Applied Sciences has been disseminated on a worldwide basis by Plenum Publishing Corporation of New York, and in the same year the coverage was broadened to include Canadian universities. All back issues can also be ordered from Plenum. We have reported in Volume 30 (thesis year 1985) a total of 12,400 theses titles from 26 Canadian and 186 United States universities. We are sure that this broader base for these titles reported will greatly enhance the value of this important annual reference work.

The sixteenth century was an age of politically powerful women. Queens, acting in their own right, and female regents, acting on behalf of their male relatives, governed much of Western Europe. Yet even as women ruled - and ruled effectively - their right to do so was hotly contested. Men s voices have long dominated this debate, but the recovery of texts by women now allows their voices, long silenced, to be heard once again. Debating Women, Politics, and Power in Early Modern Europe is a study of texts and textual production in the construction of gender, society, and politics in the early modern period. Jansen explores the "gynecocracy" debate and the larger humanist response to the challenge posed by female sovereignty.

* Will Gadd is an ESPN X Games and Ice World Cup winner * There are 1.1 million ice climbers in the U.S. (Outdoor Industry Association, 2001) * Seventh installment in The Mountaineers Outdoor Expert series "Mixed climbing is my favorite discipline. It's the most fun because it has the fewest rules-sort of like professional wrestling compared to boxing." So says Will Gadd, as profiled in Fifty Favorite Climbs. Here the champion ice climber presents the same techniques and veteran wisdom he imparts to those who attend his annual clinics. These include step-by-step instructions for the swing (ice axe), the kick (footwork), and putting it all together (tracking); how to "read" ice to select your line and follow it safely; and drytool techniques for mixed climbing. Training exercises and inspirational stories complete this seminal guide. Will Gadd won every major ice competition in the world in 1998 and 1999, as well as the 2000 Ice World Cup. A resident of Canmore, Alberta, he has written for Climbing and Rock & Ice, among other publications. Roger Chayer's photos have appeared in Rock & Ice, Climbing, Gripped, Equinox, and the Alpine Club of Canada Journal. He lives in Calgary, Alberta. Part of the Mountaineers Outdoor Expert series.
