"In Experiencias Intermediate, students follow Sofía, a 23-year-old heritage learner of Spanish from the U.S., who travels extensively. Like Daniel in Experiencias Beginning, Sofía introduces each chapter's main strategy and shares her blog on the Spanish-speaking world. Through her video segments, Sofía poses questions to Spanish speakers and invites students to compare others' perspectives to their own. Guided by the ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines (2012), Experiencias concentrates on what students can realistically communicate after two to four semesters of classroom-based Spanish language instruction. Experiencias Beginning develops oral communication and literacy through a variety of authentic tasks. With the help of Experiencias Intermediate students continue to develop communicative competencies while also focusing on practical literacies, digital humanities, and job-related skills. The communicative nature of the tasks found in the book encourages students to begin using Spanish immediately in the classroom as they express their own personal meaning"--

Vistas Cengage Learning

This is a print on demand edition of a hard to find publication. Explores whether sufficient data exists to examine the temporal and spatial relationships that existed in terrorist group planning, and if so, could patterns of preparatory conduct be identified? About one-half of the terrorists resided, planned, and prepared for terrorism relatively close to their eventual target. The terrorist groups existed for 1,205 days from the first planning meeting to the date of the actual/planned terrorist incident. The planning process for specific acts began 2-3 months prior to the terrorist incident. This study examined selected terrorist groups/incidents in the U.S. from 1980-2002. It provides for the potential to identify patterns of conduct that might lead to intervention prior to the commission of the actual terrorist incidents. Illustrations.

A year-long study of the writing development of 27 first through third graders in an English/Spanish bilingual program was conducted during the 1980-81 school year. Samples of the children's writing were collected at four intervals, coded for computer tallying, and analyzed in terms of code-switching, spelling, punctuation and segmentation, structural features, stylistic devices, and content. Additionally, the context in which the writing developed was evaluated by classroom observations, teacher interviews, review of familial backgrounds, and a survey of the community language situation. Myths about bilingual language proficiency, biliteracy, bilingual education, teaching writing, and learning to write are all countered by evidence presented in this study. In a discussion of implications, the concept of a whole language approach to writing instruction is supported, in which authentic and functional texts are offered to and produced by children. Examples of the children's writing with appropriate translations are given along with various tables. Informal follow-up information is presented in three epilogues dealing with changes in the researcher's commitment to the study's original writing theories, the writing of some students a year after the study; and a chronological outline of the demise of the bilingual program used in the study.

Appendices list interview questions used for teachers and aides and categories for coding the writing data. This book contains 134 references. (ALL)
