Sometimes the simplest truths are the hardest to remember. Sometimes we forget that Christianity is first of all about love, and that it begins with God's love for us, not with our love for God. A seasoned spiritual director, Fr. Max Oliva knows how easy it is to get caught up in ourselves and lose track of God. As he guides us on this enriching journey of remembrance and discovery, he encourages us to remember all the ways God has been present throughout our lives and to discover God's love anew.

The Fra Cosimo, Inc.

Assurance of God's Personal Love for Us The startling truth about the love of God has lost its potency. It is not a passionless, theological idea. It is a real love that feels and even suffers.

Whether you grew up in a Christian home and have forgotten this essential truth, or you never knew it in the first place, we all need to be reminded--and assured--that God's love is real and personal. The Reckless Love of God is about pulling readers in close and asking if they have really considered what it means to say, "Jesus loves you." Nothing changes lives and grows the church faster, more effectively, and more thoroughly than being captivated by this reality. But the love of Jesus is not just a means to another end. Receiving the love of Jesus is the end itself. Includes end-of-chapter questions for individual or group use.

From Sha Rene, the author of "If God had @n email Address" comes her most exciting book yet. A book of her dreams and a look into our future given by Christ. This book is the first of a series that takes you from the 1960's, the year of her birth to the 1980's. This is from her personal diary. She thought she would keep to herself, but God told her to let all of you know what would happen. What if she had a dream about 911 years before and it happened? What if she dreamt of the Coronavirus years before? Would you believe her? What if she saw the soldiers on the rooftops with rifles and saw what will happen to the sun before it happens? To have this information is valuable because God actually shows her, and it is amazing. Even more than being amazing is her goal to get you to God. Her goal is to get you to repent. There is this special number that constantly shows up number 105 and it is her special number whereby it refers to, Psalms 105:15, "Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm." It is the number God designated to her. While she is not Nostradamus, there are strange similarities in her life's journey, one in being a Certified Aromatherapist where she wants to heal those that want to heal themselves. She believes that God uses people and she is just being used to pass on a message, a message of Love. God Loves you! Read "The Prophet Zone 2" and "The Prophet Zone 3" where her dreams and events that God calls "Zones" will come alive soon. They will be found at a store near you! Sha Rene promises that the Lord will be with you as you read and study the Bible. It is the only place where you will find the truth!

The Prophet of Zongo Street is a dazzling collection of stories that calls to mind Ben Okri and Chinua Achebe. Mohammed Naseehu Ali, the tradition's acclaimed new practitioner, offers up ten powerful and beautifully rendered tales. Set primarily on the fictitious Zongo Street -- a close-knit community of wonderfully quirky characters who hold tight to superstition, religion, and family -- these stories are anchored by the uproarious, the embarrassing, the poignant, and the rawest moments of life.

Sicilian Love Story is the survival of a family of four, escaping the vendetta of a half-brother in Corleone. Charlie Cascio escapes with his family and comes to East Harlem in New York City. An apartment on East 107th street awaits him. The neighborhood is divided into various segments of Sicilian towns. Within days of his arrival, Charlie is given a job by the capo of the block, Sam Montana. 17 year-old Paula Cascio captures the eye and heart of the capo. Yet the boundaries of honor, age, and polarized life styles keep them apart. Paula embraces America and its promise for a better life. She has a rude awakening as she encounters the prejudice against the Sicilians. Ironically, she falls in love with an Irish cop, Brian Mulligan, while waves of mob wars, police brutality, and murder surround them. In this uncertain climate, Paula Cascio is discouraged and sees no end to the emotional struggles of her life. The story is unpredictable and keeps the reader emotionally engaged in the struggles of this family. This book is the first novel of my first trilogy which is being published last.

I highly commend to you these sermons by Leslie Holmes. They are well crafted and biblical. His quotations and illustrations will be particularly helpful! John A. Huffman Jr. Senior Minister, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Newport Beach, California This is a book for preachers, presented as sermons with many texts but a single message -- namely, God's love manifested in Jesus Christ. The author clearly understands that our primary task as preachers is to educate the people of God in the spirit and power of John 3:16 for ministries in a changing world. Our mission is to be faithful to God's mission of love and forgiveness demonstrated by Jesus. That is the challenge that Holmes brings to readers. Carnegie Samuel Calian President, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary Leslie Holmes has prepared a faithful and practical resource for preaching First and Second Kings. Whether or not the lectionary is used, his insight into these passages along with the illustrative material will prove valuable for the pulpit and the pew. John W. Augustine: Anti-Pelagian Writings Cosimo, Inc.

The ideologies of the New Age clash head on with the materialistic traditions of modern day America when the Street Prophet, a homeless wanderer, arrives in the extravagant and showy world of South Florida. It is karmic destiny that has brought this downtrodden-looking black man to Boca Raton, where he makes a home in the dense scrub down at the beach. He offers his powerful, soulful voice and prophetic insight in exchange for charity from strangers. Most view him as insane, watching his body gyrate to poetic verse which flies from his mouth with a frightening vehemence. However, his ability to access the unseen world and his boasts of prophecy, are very real. Remote viewing, spiritual channeling, and out-of-body experience are all part of his psychic repertoire. He is a sage and those daring enough to get past his appearance and listen to his wise words, receive life-altering benefits. He quickly becomes entangled in the different realities of several diverse characters. There is a redneck trucker in search of his runaway wife; a beautiful young healer searching for her life purpose; and an emotionally abused housewife struggling to escape the grasp of her wealthy, but demonically-possessed husband. His spiritually channeled messages serve as a catalyst for change in their lives and enlightenment on a number of topics, including religion, money, God, sex, love, fear, the Devil, self-healing, reincarnation, and consciousness, as well as 2012 and the coming earth changes. Fate weaves a perfect pattern, as the lives of the characters intertwine with each other, revealing the singular truth of the connective fiber of our human existence.

What book of the Old or New Testament has generated the most commentaries in the history of the Church? Not John's Gospel, not Paul's letter to the Romans, not the prophet Isaiah, no, it is the Song of Songs. It is a book that is unknown to many Catholics, and shocking to those who discover it for the first time because of its descriptions of a lover and his beloved God is only mentioned once and that is at the very end. And yet the greatest of the Fathers have commented on it. Origen's is the classic and St. Jerome says of it: "Origen, having surpassed all of the interpreters of all the books of Scripture, surpassed himself in this interpretation of the Canticle." St. Bernard of Clairvaux, St. Francis de Sales, St. John of the Cross, all have added to the great tradition of interpreting this book for they see it as God's love for Israel and the Church, Christ's love for Mary, for the Church, and for each of us. The author draws on all these classics of Catholic tradition to give us a verse by verse reading of the Song of Songs which will deepen the spiritual lives of all of us a deepening rooted in God's word and the most profound Catholic tradition.

"The Council of Nicaea in 325 AD marked the beginning of a new era in Christianity. For the first time, doctrines were organized into a single creed. The Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers did most of their writing during and after this important event in Church history. Unlike the previous era of Christian writing, the Nicene and Post-Nicene era is dominated by a few very important and prolific writers. In Volume V of the 14-volume collected writings of the Nicenes and Post-Nicenes (first published between 1886 and 1889), readers will discover Saint Augustines rebuke of Pelagianism. This doctrine undermined Augustines beliefs because it claimed that original sin did not exist. Since there was no original sin, humans were saved or lost based solely on their own will. This further meant that Jesus, while a great teacher and model human being, did not die to save humanity, negating a large portion of Christian doctrine. Augustine believed that salvation was available only by the grace of God working in conjunction with mans decision to live a good life. Spiritual seekers and students of history will find this work a thorough defense of Catholic theology."

Self-deprecating and disarmingly humorous, Stone shares the results of his personal study of the Bible, digging into Scripture and frequently drawing homespun biblical applications from his own life in order to clarify some truths about faith. Stone admits he didn't set out to write a spiritual autobiography, but that's more or less what his book is, and it's the book's greatest strength for both newcomers and lifelong Christians. —Kirkus Reviews Spiritual conversions are as varied as snowflakes. But once the initial excitement fades away, a new convert is faced with a dilemma: "Where do I go from here?" This book attempts to answer that question. The first part of Stepping Out was inspired by the Old Testament quotation, "Can two walk together except they be agreed?" Amos 3:3 (KJV). It will show that - God the Father intends for us to be like Christ; - God the Son enables us to be like Christ; and - God the Holy Spirit empowers us to be like Christ. The second part of the book discusses seven things that all believers should hold fast to no matter where they are in their spiritual walk: 1. Know that the Lord is God. 2. Know that you are a sinner and that you are lost without Christ. 3. Know that Christ has saved you and that you are a child of God. 4. Know that you must come clean. 5. Know that God will protect you. 6. Know that Christ will come again. 7. Know love.
