The essays of this revised and expanded collection were written by Prof. Anneli Aejmelaeus over a period of 25 years. The thread that runs through all these essays and holds the collection together is translation technique, which is characterized as a central aspect of methodology rather than an object of study. Only by tracing the trail of the Septuagint translators is it possible to gain a reliable picture of the different translators and of the Hebrew Vorlage their work was based on. The themes dealt with in the individual essays range from the study of syntactical features of the Greek language used in the Septuagint to the quest for the correct understanding of the underlying Hebrew, from the overall description of the translation character of certain biblical books to the application of translation technical data in textual criticism of the Hebrew text, and from methodological questions to the discussion of theological interpretation by the translators, reflecting the ongoing discussion in the international field of Septuagint studies and representing a significant and distinctive critical position in it.

"David" gegen "Goliath": Eine Untersuchung der Kommunikationsstrategien zweier Akteure im PR-Konflikt BRILL

In the course of the last two decades, both the historical reconstruction of the Iron I–Iron IIA period in Israel and Judah and the literary-historical reconstruction of the Books of Samuel have undergone major changes. With respect to the quest for the “historical David”, terms like “empire” or “Großreich” have been set aside in favor of designations like “mercenary” or “hapiru leader”, corresponding to the image of the son of Jesse presented in I Sam. At the same time, the literary-historical classification of these chapters has itself become a matter of considerable discussion. As Leonhard Rost’s theory of a source containing a “History of David’s Rise” continues to lose support, it becomes necessary to pose the question once again: Are we dealing with a once independent ‘story of David’ embracing both the HDR and the “succession narrative” are there several independent versions of an HDR to be detected, or do I Sam 16–II Sam 5* constitute a redactional bridge between older traditions about Saul on the one hand and David on the other? In either case, what parts of the material in I Sam 16-II Sam 5 are based on ancient traditions, and may therefore serve as a source for any tentative historical reconstruction? The participants in the 2018 symposium at Jena whose essays are collected in this volume engage these questions from different redaction-critical and archaeological perspectives. Together, they provide an overview of contemporary historical research on the book of First Samuel.

™ffentlich geführte Konflikte sind heute ein maágeblicher Bestandteil unserer Gesellschaft sowie der medialen Berichterstattung. In manchen Konfliktf„llen protestiert ein kleiner, oft bis dahin unbekannter gesellschaftlicher Akteur (der ?David?) ™ffentlich gegen einen groáen ? in vielen F„llen Unternehmen, Organisationen oder Beh“rden (der ?Goliath?). Das Ph„nomen hierbei ist, dass es diesen kleinen Akteuren mitunter gelingt, groáe und etablierte Akteure von bestehenden oder geplanten Handlungen abzubringen, obwohl sie nicht von Vornherein ¨ber eine M“glichkeit der Druckaus¸bung ¨ber politische oder wirtschaftliche Wege verffgen. Die vorliegende Studie versucht, eine Erkl„rung daf¸r zu liefern, weshalb und wie derart kleine Akteure es h„ufig schaffen, ¨ber die Mobilisierung der ™ffentlichkeit Druck gegen groáe und etablierte Institutionen aufzubauen und wirtschaftliche oder politische Entwicklungen mit zu beeinflussen. Der Fokus der Anaylse liegt hierbei auf ™ffentlich gef¸hrten Konflikten zwischen Non-Profit-Organisationen und Unternehmen. Einer grundlegenden Definition der verwendeten Begriffe folgt eine Darstellung der Kommunikationsschemata, welchen ein ?David? und ein ?Goliath? im Alltag folgen. Mittels einer ¸berleitung zu deren kommunikativen Verhaltensweisen in einem Konflikt ergeben sich zum Ende des ersten Teils der Studie Grundz¸ge f¸r Kommunikationsmodelle der beiden Akteure in einem Konflikt. Diese werden im zweiten Teil mit Hilfe einer Fallstudie abgeglichen und verfeinert. Das haupts„chliche Ergebnis der Analyse liegt in der Aufstellung von Modellen der Kommunikationsstrategie eines ?Davids? und eines ?Goliaths? in einem ™ffentlich gef¸hrten Konflikt. Des Weiteren liefert die Studie eine Gegen¸berstellung dieser beiden Modelle, um die Wechselwirkung zwischen den jeweiligen Strategien und den kommunikativen Handlungen in einem solchen Konflikt sichtbar zu machen.

Hebbel's Prose Tragedies Thomas Kellner

Cosmopolitans... - it is reasonably easy to define what it means; it is increasingly the case that we come across them. But it may be rare to see reflections that are both, sociologically well informed and at the same time entertaining - a Turkish friend from Australia suggested to the author of the present notes to call it sociotainment... - though she admitted that she got the term from her husband from India... Sometimes it's easier to find oneself while being lost. And the present volume invites to get lost, offering the reader the opportunity to think about her and his place. These are notes: reflections (from an academic who considers himself also as politically aware and in some way active) that bring together the different dimensions of being carried away to rest in different places and positions.
